Simon says gas plentiful

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Energy chief William E. Simon said today there will be enough gasoline available for Americans to take their normal summer trips this year.

Simon said that with rapidly improving gasoline supplies — as oil is again reaching this country from the Middle East — the situation has returned to "near normal."

Labor agency sues ex-treasurer

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The U. S. Labor Department has sued a Mexican food company owned by former U. S. Treasury Secretary Robert F. Kennedy Jr. for failing to pay overtime to its truck drivers.

The suit asks for an order requiring the firm to pay the overtime and keep adequate records of hours worked by employees. Mrs. Kennedy resigned from her U. S. office last Feb. 15 after serving two years.

Israel cabinet crisis deepens

TEL AVIV (UPI) — A political crisis threatening Prime Minister Golda Meir's new coalition government steadily deepened today with growing demands for the ouster of Defense Minister Moshe Dayan and Justice Minister Haim Ziskind who he does not have to.

Dayan has come under fire in the controversy over who was responsible for Israel's lack of preparedness for the Arab attack in the October War. There also have been calls for the resignation of Mrs. Meir's entire government.

Snow drifts block I-80N

BURLEY — Drifting snow closed Interstate 80 North from the Salt Lake Interchange east of Burley to the Utah state line Wednesday morning.

Traffic was limited to one lane as early as 4 a.m. and was later halted completely as snows continued to fall.

Hoosier mayor welcomes Nixon

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (UPI) — Indianapolis Mayor Richard G. Lugar, seeking a U. S. Senate seat, says President Nixon is welcome to campaign for him.

He also would welcome Vice President Ford if he wanted to campaign in Indiana, Lugar said. But he added he has not invited either since he is not yet his party's nominee for the office.

Not guilty, Reinecke says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U. S. Gov. Ed Reinecke of California pleaded "absolutely not guilty" today to three counts of lying to the Senate Judiciary Committee during testimony concerning financing of the 1972 Republican National Convention.

A tentative trial date of June 10, was set by U. S. District Judge Barrington Parker. That is two weeks after a June 1 California Republican primary in which Reinecke is a candidate for the nomination to succeed Ronald Reagan as governor.

Singer sued for back fees

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Singer Bobbie Gentry has been sued by New York talent agency which charges she hasn't paid fees due the firm for booking engagements.

The suit filed in Superior Court sought $25,350 in unpaid fees and $41,000 in damages. The allegedly unpaid fees are the agent's 10 per cent cut from engagements in the U. S., Canada and Australia.

Reform measure moves ahead

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate defeated today another effort today to kill federal financing of presidential and congressional elections and began moving toward final passage of wide-ranging reform legislation.

Voted down was an amendment by Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., a former Republican national chairman, to strike from the bill sections dealing with public financing of both general elections and primaries.

Syrian envoys off to US

By United Press International

A Syrian Delegation headed to Washington today for talks with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger on troop disengagement along the Golan Heights. As it did, artillery duels between Israeli and Syrian troops broke out today for the 30th consecutive day.

House panel mulls subpoena

(c) Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON — The House Judiciary Committee yesterday announced it would require more time to respond to the panel's request for tape recordings of 42 presidential conversations.

Several committee Democrats — and a few Republicans — talked last night of ignoring President Nixon's implicit pledge to provide at least some of the tapes later this month and of subpoenaing them immediately.

"I think our patience has pretty much been exhausted," declared Rep. Wayne Owen, D-Utah. "I think we'll have to issue a subpoena."

"I don't see what more we can do to avoid the confrontation, though we've certainly tried it," said Rep. Robert W. Kastenmeier, D-Wisc., said Nixon's reply to the committee appears to reduce to slim "any hope that there will be an amicable exchange."

"I think the delay is unacceptable," he said.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., has scheduled a meeting of the committee Thursday, when a subpoena could be taken. Rodino declined comment Tuesday night on the White House response to the tapes request, which was made more than six weeks ago in the committee's impeachment investigation of the President.

Last week, however, Rodino set Tuesday as a deadline for responding to the request for tapes and asserted that the panel would "subpoena them if we must."

The White House response came late Tuesday in a letter from James D. S. Clair, Nixon's chief Watergate lawyer, to John M. Doar, the committee's special impeachment counsel. The letter was delivered to the committee's offices by a White House messenger about 6:45 p.m., 15 minutes after it was released to the press by a presidential spokesman.

St. Clair said that by the time Congress concludes its 10-day Easter recess on April 22, the White House will have completed a "review" of the tapes the committee is seeking and will make available materials that "will assist the committee to complete its inquiry promptly."

The letter contained no promise to turn over all the recordings requested and seemed to suggest that White House officials would forward only those materials they thought relevant to the inquiry.

The recordings the committee has requested include conversations between the President and former aides H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John W. Dean II, former attorney general Richard G. Kleindienst and assistant attorney general Henry E. Petersen in February, March and April, 1973. It was at that time that the alleged "cover-up" of the Watergate break-in began to unravel.

Nixon into Michigan campaign

RADAKE Mich. (UPI) — President Nixon new Michigan's "Thumb" area today for his first political campaigning since 1972, a "rural motorcade" in behalf of a Republican congressional hopeful that also was a test of his own Watergate-scarred popularity.

The President's plane landed at the Tri-City Airport about 10:30 a.m. and he was met by a contingent of 50 miles northwest of Detroit at the start of a fast-moving visit. Some of the 11 towns on the agenda for his 14-hour visit are so small they do not even appear on state maps.

The President's bulletproof, bubbletop limousine was also flown from Washington for him to use in his tour of Michigan's 8th Congressional District to campaign for James M. Sparling Jr., who is facing Democrat Robert Traxler in a special election April 16.

The district has been a strong Republican area and Sparling is seeking to keep the seat in GOP hands. The seat was vacated when Republican James Harvey, who served since 1961, resigned to accept appointment as a U.S. district judge.

Emergency, no hay

FEDERAL Aviation Administration officials are investigating the crash of this twin engine Beechcraft in a hay field near Heyburn Tuesday. The pilot, Harold L. West, Echo, Ore., and a passenger were injured. The plane slid to a stop only two feet from a fence post.

Tax breaks ordered

(c) Washington Star-News

WASHINGTON — The Internal Revenue Service ordered substantial tax breaks for at least hundreds of thousands — and probably more than a million — disabled, retired people.

The IRS announced a major liberalization of its rules on so-called "sick pay exclusions" for these people. For many of them, the windfall could run to several thousand dollars. No one knows how many are eligible.

Benefitted immediately will be many elderly persons retired under private or government disability pension plans, excluding social security. Younger disabled taxpayers will be affected later.

Those receiving the largest early benefits are the 125,000 retired federal employees over 55 years old who are drawing disability annuities from the civil service retirement fund. But comparable — or even larger — later benefits will go to some 250,000 still under 55 and to future retirees.

The IRS consistently has held that this "sick pay exclusion" ended on the date at which a taxpayer would have reached the earliest possible eligibility for retirement based on age and service.

Plane crash injures 2

HEYBURN — Two people were slightly injured in a light plane crash Tuesday evening near Heyburn.

Harold L. West, 36, Echo, Ore., and Barbara Leis, 35, Morrill, Neb., were on a flight from Morrill to Echo when they crashed in a hayfield three-fourths mile east of the Burley airport about 5:30 p.m.

The left engine of the twin engine craft lost power, forcing the pilot to attempt a landing at the Burley airport, according to Minidoka County Deputy Sheriff David Constant. The propeller could not be feathered, causing a drag problem and forcing an emergency landing. When the pilot saw he might go into the Snake River, he decided to land in the field.

The aircraft bounced and slid along the field until it hit a fence post, bringing it to a halt. Most of the damage to the plane appeared to be caused by hitting the ditch bank.

TF zone draft shelters rim, expands housing

By DAVID HORSMAN
Times News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Proposed county zoning around TWIN FALLS City has taken on a new look.

A final draft of a proposed zoning ordinance which is now before the Twin Falls County Commission, is the final decision would provide the following if approved:

- Protect the Snake River Canyon Rim from subdivisions and commercial development by designating the rim for agricultural use.
- Permit residential subdivisions to expand into about eight square miles of land around the city, a greater area than had been recommended by planners.

- Provide for continued commercial expansion on major traffic arteries leading into Twin Falls.
- Allow trailer homes in zones to the north of the College of Southern Idaho and immediately south of the city.
- Establish new, more restrictive zones for residential construction.
- The most sweeping changes from earlier drafts of the ordinance involve two new zoning designations — residential low density (RL) and residential agricultural (RA) — and a new procedural setup for conditional use applications.

Other important alterations include setting up the residential medium density (RM) zone as the primary area for mobile home parks and establishing a minimum lot size of five acres in the outdoor recreation (OR) zone.

The RA zone is the most restrictive of all residential designations. It is intended to be a buffer between areas that are used exclusively for farming and those that are developed for homes.

In the current draft of the new ordinance, RA lots must be at least one acre when septic tanks are used for sewage disposal. Lots serviced by public sewer systems must be at least one-half acre.

Principal uses listed for the RA zone are farming — one-family dwellings — and related buildings, temporary structures for the sale of farm products, home occupations, water reservoirs, public parks, parking lots, subdivisions, and churches.

Conditional uses proposed for the RA zone include planned unit developments, schools and private educational buildings and private non-commercial recreation areas.

Commission checks draft

TWIN FALLS — Twin Falls County commissioners are reviewing what might be the final version of a new county zoning ordinance.

An attorney's stamp of approval and, possibly, a public information session appear to be all that stand the way of final action on the controversial law.

Commissioner Merl Leonard Tuesday said the latest draft of the ordinance must be approved by Robert Alexander, the county's zoning attorney. The lawyer might recommend that amendments tacked on since publication of the proposed law last August be published as a "regal announcement."

Leonard said he will not vote until Thursday afternoon, delaying his review until then, according to Leonard.

The commissioners also might call an informational meeting to tell the public about proposed changes in the law, Leonard said Tuesday. He said the session would be primarily for explanation rather than citizen input.

Oil loophole end voted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee has voted to phase out the 22 per cent depletion allowance as part of an energy tax bill that would cost oil companies $16 billion over the next six years.

Tuesday's decision may be challenged by liberals who want to hit the oil companies harder and by conservatives who think the measure goes too far. Both groups hope to amend the bill on the House floor although normally tax bills are not subject to amendment.

The allowance permits oil companies to deduct from their taxable profits 22 cents out of each dollar of oil that comes out of the ground. It is worth more than $2 billion a year to oil companies.

The bill, if passed by the House, may have trouble getting approval from the Senate Finance Committee, whose chairman, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., is known to oppose major changes in domestic oil tax laws.

Long told UPI four weeks ago that his major interest in energy tax legislation was to end or sharply reduce many of the foreign tax advantages for U.S. oil companies.

The House committee version would also place a temporary "windfall profits" tax on crude oil prices in the form of an excise tax rather than a tax on profits. The bill, subject to a final committee vote in about two weeks, would also restrict several foreign tax advantages.

Greenwalt not running

JEHOHE — Hept. Earl Greenwalt, R-Jerome, announced today he will not seek re-election.

Greenwalt and his decision was primarily for personal reasons. "I have now served four years in the Idaho state legislature and previously had served 10 years for the city. I feel I have put in my time as a public servant and my family and I want to do a little traveling," he said.

Greenwalt was first elected state representative in 1970.

Results seen in Hearst case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI agent in charge of the Patricia Hearst kidnapping says "something could happen any time" in the case and that he is convinced "people will be arrested and people will be brought to court."

The remarks by special agent Charles Bates came after U.S. Attorney General William French Smith said in Washington, "Now the lid is off. I think we are going to see some results."

The FBI has restricted its investigation somewhat because of fears for Miss Hearst's life. But Bates indicated to newsmen Tuesday that he feels the FBI has an implied go-ahead from the Hearst family to go all out to find the woman's kidnappers.

Miss Hearst's father, Randolph A. Hearst, editor of the San Francisco Examiner, and his wife are in Mexico for a rest following two months of attempts to arrange their daughter's release by the Symbionese Liberation Army which kidnapped her Feb. 4.

Hearst denounced the kidnappers for the first time Tuesday in a news conference at a small resort near La Paz.

"They are just terrorists," Hearst said. "They are counter-revolutionaries and are hurting their own cause because people will not go along with this sort of thing."

Saxbe was quoted by the Washington Star-News as saying the "bureau has done everything to cooperate with the family."

"Now that the family is not thinking she is going to be returned day by day and doesn't think the ransom will be adequate, this will give the FBI more freedom to operate."

'Herb dealer' on ballot

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UPI) — On the ballot for the June election, Jerry L. Lawrence, 32, a candidate for sheriff of Orange County, lists his occupation as "herb dealer."

Lawrence is scheduled to go on trial in Superior Court the day before the election on charges of possessing several pounds of marijuana.

Youths arrested

TWIN FALLS — Five juvenile boys, ages 11 to 16, were arrested Tuesday in connection with a burglary at Morningglade School.

Scouts set fete

HAILEY — The Wood River District Scout O-Rama will be held at Hailey on April 27.

Scouts and Cub Scouts from Lincoln County are making preparations to attend, and are selling tickets to the event this week. These tickets may be used either at Hailey or at Jerome events.

The Scout-O-Rama is a country-style event, where Scouts and Explorers demonstrate scouting skills, activities and vocational subjects to the general public.

It is a theater-of-the-type, telling the scouting story. There will actually be five different shows in the Snake River Area Council, where more than 4,000 members will be participating.

News employees

back to work

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wire Service Guild members returned to work at United Press International today, ending a 23-day strike, the first by editorial employees in the news agency's 87-year history.

Striking newsmen, news-women, photographers, editors and other Guild-covered employees returned to work at midnight, six hours after the Guild announced that Guild members, in a unanimous vote, approved a new two-year contract.

The approval, on a vote of 223 to 245, came just one day after 58 per cent of striking-Guild members voted to reject the same proposed contract. But the four-member-Guild negotiating committee, which had unapologetically asked members to reject the offer, resubmitted the proposal with a unanimous recommendation that it be approved. The committee said a 58-per-cent rejection vote was not strong enough to maintain a hard bargaining position.

"The settlement provides pay raises of 5.67 per cent in each year, raising minimum salaries for the most experienced editorial employees from the $300 provided in the contract, that expired at midnight March 15 to $317 immediately and to $338 on Jan. 1, 1975."

The Guild had sought pay raises of 10 per cent in each year of the contract.

The strike began at 9 a.m. Monday, March 18 after almost five weeks of negotiations failed to produce a new agreement.

The Guild announced Tuesday evening that Guild members had "reluctantly" voted to return to work and accept management's last offer.

"In doing so, however, the members have expressed through their initial objection of the contract Monday, the narrow margin of approval today and the solidarity of the strikers that they are extremely dissatisfied with UPI management's failure to meet its responsibilities for a fair share approach to its employees."

The strike ends at 10:01 a.m. EDT Wednesday, April 10.

The Guild told its members the strike "has not been in vain."

Two Oklahoma inmates escape

MCALISTER, Okla. (UPI) — Two Oklahoma State Penitentiary inmates absconded with a prison van and escaped early today. Dr. Rafael Cott was released unharmed 3 1/2 hours later but the inmates were still at large.

Cott, 35, telephoned his wife about 7:10 a.m. from Oklahoma City, informing her he was safe.

"I assume they let Cott free in Oklahoma City, since that is the only place he would be," said State Corrections Department news officer Howard English.

"All we know is that he was released and is driving back to McAlester."

Gov. David Hall's news secretary, Ed Hardy, said details of the escape were sketchy, but that one of the inmates was a trusty nurse and neither trusty was confined within the prison walls.

He said a statewide search was under way for Darwin Bissell, 37, serving 25 years for armed robbery from Oklahoma County, and Albert L. Reed, H.

servicing life for a Tulsa county murder conviction.

English said Reed called the doctor about 3 a.m., reporting Bissell had taken an overdose of drugs.

"Dr. Cott went to the dispensary without notifying the lieutenant," English said.

"When he left the area he told the guard his boy had a bad cold."

"We don't know if the inmates had walked across the field to Cott's house or were with him at that time," Hardy said.

"Cott lived in a little brick house just a short distance from the medical research facility which is not within the prison walls."

"We aren't certain what sort of force they used on him, his wife and family," Hardy said. "It may have been a knife."

Hardy said Cott told his wife not to notify authorities immediately and that there was some delay before the highway patrol was called.

Fire fighter job sought by woman

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Kathleen Brailigan, 28, the mother of three, is not sure she can do the chinups, pushups, weight lifting and mile run in the agility test required to become a fire fighter. But she is going to try it.

Mrs. Brailigan, whose husband is a fireman, applied for a job as a fire fighter Monday.

Ponderosa denies Holve firing charge

By BILL LAZARUS
Times-News Writer

BURLEY — Ponderosa Inns Inc. has denied a Democratic aspirant for Congress was fired because of political activity.

At the same time the candidate, Keith Holve, Idaho Falls, said he had decided not to press charges against the firm.

"I don't want it to be one of the issues of the campaign," Holve said Tuesday.

Holve earlier had charged he was dismissed from his job at the Idaho Falls Ponderosa Inn because he had chosen to run for office.

But Tuesday Ponderosa President George Forscher denied Holve had been fired because of his candidacy.

Forscher, who had himself been a candidate for public office while employed by the Ponderosa, said Tuesday, "As far as I'm personally concerned, and as president of this company, I always encouraged any qualified young person to seek high office, regardless of party affiliation."

Holve had said he had been called into the Idaho Falls manager's office and told his work was satisfactory but that he had been terminated because of his political activities.

But Forscher said Tuesday Holve was fired because "his job was not satisfactory."

Forscher said that during an inspection tour in February he had noticed Holve's performance unsatisfactorily and recommended he be fired unless the situation was corrected.

Forscher said Holve had spent time collecting signatures from fellow employees on a candidacy while working at the desk.

Keeps working

TWIN FALLS — School district business manager J. T. Anderson doesn't let a trip to the hospital interfere with school business.

Monday morning after a restless and uncomfortable night, Anderson checked into Magic Valley Memorial Hospital for early afternoon surgery to remove his appendix.

By 4 p.m. he was calling school administration officials to relay messages and instructions about school business.

Anderson, recuperating at the hospital, is reported as doing well.

Murtatigh group sets dinner meet

TWIN FALLS — The annual dinner of the Murtatigh Lake Water Ski Association will be held May 11 at the Holiday Inn here.

The event will feature former Miss Idaho, Diana Hopperstad, hostess.

Tickets are available at $7 per plate through Kathy Larson at 734-4845 in the evenings or through Mrs. Bernie McClain at 734-1536.

A ski show has been scheduled tentatively for July 14 at Murtatigh Lake in the Cove.

Association directors Monday expressed appreciation to the county waterways commission for several new picnic tables donated to the association.

They also thanked the Bureau of Land Management's Burley office for donation of gravel and to the Twin Falls Army Reserve Center for the grading and paving of an area's road and parking area.

Airport restaurant lease recommended

TWIN FALLS — The Twin Falls Airport Commission decided Tuesday to recommend airport restaurant facilities be leased to Doyle Enterprises.

The firm was the first to meet with the commission regarding lease of the restaurant and bar at the city-county airport and was recommended by the airport commission after conference with two other potential operators.

City Manager Jean Miller said the recommendation will go to the City Council and county commissioners with final action up to those two bodies. He said if approved, Doyle Enterprises, Ketchum, will probably be able to begin operation about May 1.

At the present time the restaurant is closed with only vending machines offering coffee, candy and snacks to air passengers in the terminal.

Miller said Doyle Enterprises operates the Prospect restaurant and overnight accommodations near Sun Valley and plans to lease the lease in the Twin Falls airport as a means of contacting potential customers.

FUTURE basketball stars may be among the first place Tri-Star Basketball contest winners in ages 11 to 13. Lyman Davis, lieutenant governor, Optimist International, makes presentation to Ramiro Martinez, 13; Curt Rosenau 12, and Lance Sellers, 11, from left.

Basketball awards given

TWIN FALLS — Trophies have been presented to 14 young basketball stars who won top honors in the Tri-Star Basketball contest.

The event, sponsored by the Optimist Club and open to all youngsters 8 through 13 in Twin Falls, attracted 150 competitors, chairman Kenneth Colner announced Tuesday.

Colner and Lyman Davis, lieutenant governor of Optimist International, awarded trophies to the winners. The event is an annual meet and requires talent in dribbling through a slant knot course at a high rate of speed, basket shooting and passing to a circle area.

Gary Krumm, a Lincoln school student competing in the 10-year-old division, scored the most points of any of the 150 participants.

Winners in the 8-year-old division included Andy Toolson, Morningside, first; Craig Sabala, Morningside, second; Doug Anderson, Morningside, and Tim Ferrell, Morningside, tied for third.

Nine-year-old winners in that order were Linc Cowan, Harrison; Curtis Thibault, Lincoln; and Kelly Stansell, Bickel; and David Clausen, Harrison and Doug Wright, Morningside, all tied for third.

Ten-year-olds were Gary Krumm, Lincoln; Steve Hale, Lincoln; and Steve Meyerhoeffer, Harrison.

Eleven-year-old winners were Lance Sellers, Bickel; Clay Meacham, Morningside; and Mike Martinez, Bickel.

Twelve-year-olds were Curt Rosenau, O'Leary; Blaine Pope, Washington; and Joe Nease, O'Leary.

Thirteen-year-olds were Ramiro Martinez, O'Leary; Doug Gambrell, Robert Stuart; and Paul Barnett, Lincoln.

Cassia OK's unit

BURLEY — Cassia County commissioners approved the new structure and name of Magic Valley's planning organization Monday.

The recent merger of the South Idaho Resource Planning and Development Association, and the Wood River Resource Area Council of Governments will be called the Magic Valley Association of Governments, subject to the approval of other members of the original associations.

Cassia County commissioners and representatives of all five towns in Cassia County met Monday with Ray Ickelson of the state planning agency and Del Taylor, executive director of the Wood River group.

A new work schedule and organization chart for the newly formed association was presented to the Cassia County officials. Under the new rules, the organization will have an 18-man board, including representatives from cities, counties and soil conservation districts.

The original organizations may retain separate identities, if they wish, according to Taylor.

The merger has brought Magic Valley into line with the state plan for six planning districts statewide and made it possible to share a $20,000 federal grant.

Members will have equal representation and voting powers. Membership is voluntary and governments can withdraw from the organization at will.

James Leonard, Declo, was selected at the meeting to represent Cassia County towns in the new organization with L. V. Morgan, Burley, as his alternate.

Commissioner Weldon Beck was chosen to represent Cassia County, with both of the other commission members as alternates.

Evangelist in Boise

TWIN FALLS — Followers of Rev. Sun Myung Moon are in Twin Falls promoting the evangelistic speaker's appearance in Boise Thursday.

The group is part of some 70 people from seven different countries traveling ahead and preparing for the appearance of Rev. Moon. His only visit in Idaho will be at a 3 p.m. Thursday in the student union building, Boise State University.

Dick Ten Wolde, one of the advance group selling long stemmed carnations in an effort to help raise preliminary expenses, said Rev. Moon will probably go to Utah from here but has too many things yet to do to ever return to Idaho.

Rev. Moon's appeal is for a united Christianity and his lectures have drawn prominent attention because of his controversial "Watergate declaration." Rev. Moon urges "forgive, love and unite."

Wolde said residents of Magic Valley are being encouraged to attend the Boise meeting.

Post aides honored

SHOSHONE — Veterans of Foreign Wars commander for Shoshone Post 3001, B. J. Anderson, and quartermaster Victor J. Bozzuto, have received recognition from the state VFW.

Anderson was named the Commander of the Month and Bozzuto the Quartermaster of the month in recognition of their achievement in membership enrolled during the month of March, 1974.

Sidney E. Thompson, commander for Idaho, and adjutant quartermaster, Don A. Iby, signed certificates presented to the two local men for the achievement.

Idaho's marijuana law

Boise Statesman

"Used judiciously by law enforcement personnel and the courts, this bill hopefully will help cut the flow of controlled substances into this state. If not the act will be in effect for only six months when the legislature meets again, and it can be reconsidered at that time." — Gov. Cecil Andrus.

Idaho's new marijuana law could accomplish, to some degree, what its sponsors had in mind — to reduce the use and movement of marijuana.

Yet it is wrong to impose so harsh a penalty, a prison offense for the possession of three ounces of marijuana. That is a sizable amount; estimated by Ada Prosecutor James Ilisch as enough for 200 or 300 marijuana cigarettes. It is not enough, though, for a clear presumption of intent to sell.

Gov. Andrus indicated reservations when he signed the bill. In an election year, it is difficult for any official here to resist such a law. To resist means being branded by some of the bill's advocates as upholding the use of drugs.

Unfortunately, a sizable percentage of young people tend to see no evil, or very little, in marijuana.

While marijuana may be no worse than liquor, it is part of the whole drug culture — a culture which has given society more crime, more violence, destroyed young lives, and alienated parents and children.

The use of drugs as a substitute for the pursuit of other values, of personal achievements, tends to weaken and undermine society.

You should recognize that most parents have a powerful fear for the welfare of their children. Few parents would want their child sent to prison for possession of three ounces of marijuana, but most wish that marijuana and all the other drugs would go away.

Of course this law won't make them go away.

Adult society has a responsibility to provide leadership. In emphasizing positive values, to help children discover the order and variety in life, to find the best in themselves, to cultivate creative interests and pursuits.

It seems significant that a legislature which attempted to do something about marijuana with a punitive law, did not show similar concern about other values.

A memorial to open the central Idaho primitive areas to roads and logging needs passed. One of the issues here is to leave young people and future generations something of value — a magnificent wilderness, with clean rivers, remarkable fisheries and wildlife.

The lawmakers voted to put big loopholes in the Stream Protection Act, and to limit the penalty for stream destruction to a maximum $2,500 fine. If it hadn't been voted any other way, a bulldozer could tear up miles and miles of a river with a bulldozer for $2,500.

The legislature refused to pass a land-use bill to help protect basic land values for all the present and future residents of this state.

When adults in leadership positions exhibit such shabby values, it's more understandable to find young people who are cynical and amoral. If the former, consideration of the legislature is the service of restraint, greed, how can legislators ask youngsters to be idealistic, to pursue lofty goals rather than personal pleasures?

As the governor said, this law may not be so bad if judiciously used — that is, if it isn't used to pin a prison rap on youngsters who need guidance more than vengeance. But if we are going to win the war against drugs, we must cultivate more constructive methods than this.

Idaho people must act on campaign finance law

Lewistown Tribune

The people of Idaho are at the same point now on a campaign finance law and the regulation of lobbyists that their neighbors in Washington state reached two years ago — the point at which they must take the lawmaking into their own hands.

Washington's legislature took it when the era of open government dawned and made a half-hearted stab at requiring open books on campaign financing and the activities of lobbyists. The people responded with a very tough initiative indeed that has made Washington politics the most open in the nation.

The Idaho Legislature had the chance during its recently concluded session to avoid the same thing. The lawmakers failed. They wouldn't touch a campaign disclosure law with a 10-foot special interest. And they passed a timid bill of a law on lobbying.

The failure of the legislature made inevitable the initiative campaign that was announced Wednesday. And if Washington is any yardstick, the passage of the initiative is equally inevitable. Sen. John Peavey, one of the leaders of a collection of diverse partisans for open politics, announced the petitions are being prepared and will soon begin circulating.

There was no choice in the matter. It is another aspect of the complex system of checks and balances that, when the elected legislature fails, the ultimate legislature of the people themselves will go to work. — B.H.

Ranks, power of Western leaders depleted

(N.Y. Times Service) — When Charles De Gaulle retired in 1969, one of the giants who dominated the Western world in its wartime and postwar eras, a political process was completed. This saw political power in the democracies handed over in a new age of mediocrity to leaders of a middle or intermediate quality, men of man's dimensions.

The outstanding quartet of this group included French President Pompidou, British Prime Minister Heath, US President Nixon, and West German Chancellor Brandt. One could not help but reflect on the approaching end of the historical phase they symbolize when surveying the mourners solemnly gathered in Notre Dame to lament the passing of Pompidou.

The French president excellently represented those unheroic but technically competent men of the sort described by Moller: "Good sense views all extremes with detestation." Pompidou was the first of the quartet to die.

But already Heath had been brusquely forced from office, lowering stars forecast for Nixon, and Brandt engaged in furious argument with his party's new left, was subsiding into a political slough of despond.

It is an unusual circumstance that these four shared a special bond and one had a feeling that on the "sad occasion" which brought them together (with their peers around the earth) they might have communicated unspoken thoughts over their comrade's memory.

Moreover, the four shared concepts of governance. They stressed a strong executive and under this, each took pains to personally oversee his nation's foreign policy. Pompidou approved Britain's admission into "Europe"; Heath arranged this step which may — or may not — alter the course of British destiny. Brandt recognized Communist East Germany, and Nixon ended American intervention in Vietnam and launched new policies for China and Russia. Pompidou had a special view both of France's relationship with America, Britain and Germany, and also of France's role in a world evolving from bipolar to multipolar politics. At the end of January, just before his final visit to Brezhnev in Pilsudna, USSR, the late president told me:

"The Russians say that in the Atlantic world France irritates the USA — and that is good. They also say the United States — under Nixon and Kissinger — admits the French are indeed irritating but they are the only allies who follow a policy of firm defense, an adequate budget. The Russians certainly claim France irritates the United States but at the same time reaffirms its fidelity to the North Atlantic Alliance."

They basically reflect the geographical positioning of power limitations of contemporary France. And while honoring the man who dominated them one may suspect that each of the political quartet's survivors, 'only already deprived of authority and too increasingly lashed by that threat, must be reflecting on the evanescence of personal power.

As Max Weber wrote: "No one knows whether, at the end of this formidable transformation, entirely new prophets will arise."

LET ME SAY A FEW WORDS IN SUPPORT OF MY ESTEEMED PARTY COLLEAGUE

Defying IRS order might have stirred fuss

(Chicago Daily News) — WASHINGTON — Colquhoun, up close to $433,000 in the tax people want look especially good on President Nixon's resume.

Not is it likely to be considered one of the more heroic moments in the history of the civil service.

Yet the fact that the President agreed to pay what he owes has brought inasmuch from varied sources. Commendations have come from White House spokesmen and Republican leaders. Members of the House Judiciary Committee chimed in, and so did the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue and Taxation, the staff of which stuck to the President for a microscopic inquest of his tax returns of such dogged thoroughness as to require a 700-page report.

One wonders what would have happened if Nixon had denied the committee and the Internal Revenue Service, which reached a similar conclusion about the faulty arithmetic and judgment of the taxpayer in question and his accountants. After all, it is the White House said, in a curious, graceless statement, "The President's lawyers stated 'valid and compelling' positions to the committee, and the issues could be sharply and properly contested."

PETER LISAGOR

In court proceedings such as are open to an individual taxpayer to review the decisions of the Internal Revenue Service. The president recognized he was not an ordinary taxpayer, and furthermore, Nixon had agreed to abide by the committee's judgment when he "voluntarily requested" it examine his returns.

The cold, hard realities of the President's political predicament overshadow any attempt, however, to make his agreement to pay up an act of heroism. It is a wipeout, and it is said, to a man, who by his own account, has worked hard for every nickel he has earned; it is a cruel and painful wipeout. The President does not live in Joyville these days, but who is to blame?

The supply of devious on the White House pantheon of villains runs thin. To blame others for his tax plight is of a piece with the attempt to exorcise the devil CREEP from the orthodoxy of Nixon's politics. It is an interesting diversion, nothing more.

The committee to re-elect the President (hence the acronym CREEP) denies may have treated the Republican National Committee like lepers, and tolerated party wheelchairs with a smidge indulgence; but it did not spring full-blown from the primeval ooze and was not conceived either in some Polystyrene or the fertile brain of a political consultant.

Before President Gerald R. Ford and his manager to embed CREEP in the mythology of intrigued amoralism, one fact should be remembered. It was created by the White House, nourished by the White House, toilet-trained by the White House, and imbued with the ethics of the place.

Its guidance and inspiration came from the Oval Office through H. R. (Bob) Haldeman, the chief of staff, confidant, after ego, answering service and messenger. The President, in a word, was not victimized by CREEP on crones.

Who's Jerry Ford lying to kids? And who's the White House trying to kid about those tax returns?

No comparison to '76

WASHINGTON — There was a piece in one of the papers, the other day, datelined San Francisco, which quoted a man in the street as saying that the kidnapers of the Hearst family were the modern day equivalents of the founding fathers who made our revolution.

The citizen quoted — assuming he was a citizen — argued that the system was wrong and that the Symbionese Army was trying to right it by wresting money from the rich to care for the poor.

Doesn't anybody read history any more? The last thing in the minds of the founding fathers was holding the wealthy ransom.

They were, indeed, agitators. They found the existing order "taxation" without representation among other things — and the Englishmen, and so they sought change. By so doing, they became fugitives from the Establishment, men unwelcome in the homes of many of their aristocratic friends. They would become leaders of the riff-raff who took the field against royal troops.

But if they were revolutionaries and agitators, they were also men of moderation. For more than 10 years they had waged a campaign of nonviolence against the crown, seeking redress for "abuses" against their civil rights as Englishmen. On July 8, 1776, the Continental Congress had declared: "We have not raised armies with ambitious designs of separating from Great Britain."

A year and two days later, the elegant Charles Biddle made note of the first public celebration of the Declaration of Independence in Philadelphia's State House yard. "There were few respectable persons present," Biddle wrote.

In a shallow sense, Biddle was right. By and large, revolutions are not welcomed by so-called "respectable" people. These individuals cling to the status quo because it is comfortable, because it has brought them respectability, and because change is always a gamble.

Most of the "respectable" American colonists were Tories, sympathetic to King George III.

And yet, despite Biddle's sneers, the American Revolution was made by men of moral and material substance.

Their names were honored ones — Richard Henry Lee, Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, Robert T. Livingston, John Adams, Charles Carroll. The difference between these men and the comfortable Tories was that the Jeffersons and Franklins and Lees were willing to doff the safe cloak of respectability to agitate for peace.

ANDREW TULLY

Even in July 1776, there was still strong opposition to independence; many clung to the hope that George III would restore their rights as Englishmen. They didn't want to build a new country. They wanted simply to be free Englishmen.

But John Adams, forensic fire and logic swung the wavering; they had, he told them, waited too long already. And so, reluctantly, the Continental Congress on July 2 voted the resolution drafted nearly a month before by Richard Henry Lee that "these United colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states."

This was the work of moderate men who had no choice. They voted for principle, not violence, not the stealing of a human body. To equate Patricia Hearst's kidnapers with such men is to make a sick joke.

By comparison with the breed of '76, the Symbionese Army — or whoever those kidnapers are — must be written down as juvenile delinquents.

And don't forget the 13 cents tacked on

(N.Y. Times Service) — WASHINGTON — Did you say $432,787.13?

"And thirteen cents." "Yes, thirteen cents. Four hundred and thirty-two thousand, seven hundred and eighty-seven dollars. And thirteen cents."

"And we have to pay right away." "Right away. $432,787.13."

"And thirteen cents." "Get a grip on yourself, Pat, and quit saying, 'And thirteen cents.' It's the four hundred and thirty-two thousand that worries me. Not the thirteen cents."

"Thirteen cents." "I know. It's a shock, darling, but don't let it crush you. I'll get the money somehow. I'll take a second job and moonlight. Why, I'll bet a man could earn $100 a week easy, just driving a cab between dinner and midnight, after his regular day's work was done."

"At that rate it would take you 4,328 weeks. Dick, to earn the $432,787.13 we owe Internal Revenue. That's 83 years. You'd be 144 years old before it was all paid."

"Pat, you know I'm not the kind who gets discouraged just because there's a long row to hoe."

"But you'd be too old to drive a cab, Dick. At least in the final 50 years."

"That's right. I'm going to do it myself."

"To take the easy way, Dick."

"Never."

"Sell your memoirs to a book publisher. For a million dollars. That will pay the back taxes and leave enough over to pay the taxes on the million you'll be earning to pay the back taxes."

"Oh, Pat, others have urged me to take the easy way. Mr. President they said, 'take the easy way. Borrow the money from Bobo. Sell Appleton another slice of the San Clemente lawn. And do you know what I've told them?'

"You will not take the easy way."

"That's right. I have already instructed White House attorneys to apply for my hacking permit at the taxi cab bureau."

"You know very well the Secret Service is not going to let you drive a cab alone at night."

"That's no problem. I can fit four agents in the cab when I'm cruising. When I pick up a fare the agents can get out and run alongside the taxi. They're trained for that, you know."

"If they did that, they'd be moonlighting, too, and you'd have to divide the income among the five of you. At $20 a week it would take you 415 years to earn $432,787.13."

"We could hold a garage sale, and if I can get back those old newspaper clippings I gave the national archives as part of my papers we could pick up a small bundle of cash from the scrap trust."

"Too little and too late. The tax people want their money right away."

"I could do a lecture tour. If Art Buchwald earns $250 per lecture, I ought to be good for at least $100. Two hundred and sixteen lectures would earn me $432,000."

"Yes, but you'd have to do another 108 to pay the taxes on 108 lectures from the first 216 and another 80 to pay the agent's percentage on the 216 you did to pay the back taxes, the 108 you did to pay the current taxes, and the 80 you do to pay the agent's fee. Then, of course, you would have to do more to pay the taxes on the 80 you do to pay the agent's fee, and then more to pay the agent's fee."

"Pat."

"What is it, Dick?"

"Pat, you make the easy way seem tempting."

"I'll have the White House switchboard place a call to somebody with plenty of money."

"Tell me something, Pat. What do you think real people do when they get clobbered like this by the IRS?"

"They suffer, I suppose, just like us, and stagger around half in shock saying over and over, 'And thirteen cents.'"

Attaches' reports criticize Idaho legislators

By RICHARD CHARNOCK
(UPI) — Attaches hired to improve the legislative image have published and mailed a "legislative" expense "action" report critical of the Legislature and especially the Senate.

Sent out last Friday, the pamphlet was prepared by Phillip Huffman, supervisor of the Legislative Public Information Center. She said 350 were prepared and she mailed out 330 of them to legislators, newspapers and broadcasting stations.

They contained analyses of what they working in the information center did each day as well as personal reports from each member of the staff. These personal reports contained specific criticisms of the lawmakers body.

The first report was part of Mr. Huffman's adding she was directed to make it by the citizens advisory committee that hired her.

She said she talked to the assistant of House Speaker Wm. J. Lanting, R-Hollister, and to Chairman John M. Moscow, of the advisory committee and they said "go ahead and prepare a report on our activities and what our research found out."

"I didn't put anything in that report but what I felt," she said. "If it embarrasses people, that's tough."

Messengers complained bitterly in the report about not being given access to the Senate floor while the lawmakers were in session — instead having to hand their message to other attaches to deliver.

In the Senate, they said, they could not get beyond the lobby open to the general public — even though some of them were on the Senate payroll.

"Even though it's not much sense," messenger guide David Warner said, adding he often became involved in a great amount of "travel" when delivering a message. "Often we get drafted by doorman legislators and citizens to run some other errand, like finding people or delivering other messages."

All spoke with enthusiasm about the tours they conducted for the general public.

But in her analysis of the guided tours, Mrs. Huffman said conditions were far from controllable when teachers were lax and uninterested. She said the guides overwhelmingly voted Nampa and Mountain Home children as the toughest to handle regardless of tour or age level.

One messenger guide, Debby Shorb, wrote that she found that the average Idahoan who visits the Legislature is "basically uninformed."

And what is even more depressing is the fact that when the senior government students from Idaho's high schools come to visit the Legislature and get a first hand view of their government, the air of apathy and indifference to the people and people to their government," she said.

"One final, and kind of revealing, comment which I will share with you is the 'sweet talking' legislators, lobbyists and attaches who really mowed me over," she said.

"Since I haven't had too much opportunity to experience the worthy attributes of certain individuals, it took the same time to realize that some men get a kick out of wooing girls."

"It really made me aware of how careful a girl has to be if she's as naive as I am," she said.

Although the Legislature agreed to continue the citizens advisory committee that set up the information center, the Senate on the final day of the session killed a bill to fund it.

President pro tem James Elmsworth, R-Tarboro, said he felt the center provided a valuable service during the session but could not justify a continuing interim expense.

Mrs. Huffman was sharply critical of the decision against interim funding, saying she had made plans for meetings with similar groups in neighboring states. In a telephone conversation Monday she said she is going to Salem, Ore., next month at the expense of the Oregon Legislature to discuss the Idaho information experiment.

Reasoning questioned

Editor, Times-News:

Your editorial of March 22, "Questions on Idaho's Crisis" came to my attention today, and some of your reasoning is difficult to interpret.

You start off by saying that Idaho received 1.4 per cent more gasoline in 1973 over 1972 and then you add that if the increase is correct, it should be enough to raise any motorist's tank.

On the contrary, the fact that Idaho did have an increase in gasoline (17 million gallons more) and also had adequate heating fuel supplies the past two winters should be among the blessings that we in Idaho can count on.

The crisis has barely brushed Idaho, in contrast to most other states, and you're complaining about this? That extra gallonage received in Idaho last year actually amounted to about a tank and a half of gasoline for all registered motorized vehicles in the state. We're fortunate there have been no long lines at service stations, and you're bitching about it?

You overlooked, among several major reasons, the main problem in the state's gasoline crisis. The rate for fuel was rising above the increase in gallonage. New vehicle registration in Idaho and nationwide was at an all-time high in 1973. Over 200,000 new vehicles a week were coming onto U.S. highways, and most of them had big appetites for gasoline because of emission controls and power equipment and air conditioning.

Second, there were 40 million additional acres of farm land eligible to be brought into production in 1973, so farm demand for gasoline skyrocketed. In Idaho, for instance, 1973 refunds from gasoline tax receipts to non-highway fuel users jumped to $3.1 million compared to $1.9 million in 1972.

Those figures show clearly that millions of more gallons of gasoline were used in Idaho last year and a record in 1973 than in 1972.

The national average consumption of gasoline for agricultural production is 22 gallons per acre. That totals about eight billion gallons of fuel annually required for farm production.

Letters

including over 100 million gallons a year in Idaho.

This year, additional millions of acres of farm land will be brought into production, further increasing the demand and agriculture rightfully has top priority on fuel use.

Conservation efforts by most motorists have been the main factor in preventing the fuel crisis from worsening. Even when Middle East oil starts reaching this country in a few weeks, it will still be necessary to use oil fuels wisely and carefully.

Incidentally, the growth rate in fuel use in Idaho and several other western states generally runs above the national average. The rate of increase in gasoline nationwide in 1972 was 6.5 per cent, in Idaho, it was 7.2 per cent.

For your information, the independent segment of the petroleum industry for at least five straight years, including 1973, has gained a larger share of the market, at the expense of the major oil companies.

The only real answer to raising fuel shortages is to make more supplies available, not in controlling share the shortages. The No. 1 priority in this country is getting quickly on the road to self-sufficiency again, and not being dependent on foreign sources of oil.

Energy companies can accomplish this goal, if just given the right, and in the meantime, the rate of increase in energy in this country must be developed.

Korean deadlock persists

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
(c) Washington Star-News

HONG KONG — Hopes for an end to the hostile confrontation between South and North Korea, which bloomed two years ago with the beginning of peaceful talks on establishing normal contacts, are now thoroughly blighted.

Relations have settled back into the old cold war situation that has prevailed since the Korean War ended two decades ago. Occasionally relations are heated up by incidents like the recent northern sinking of one southern boat and capture of another, and by statements to which the other side takes strong objection.

The stalemate in unity talks is perhaps in fact the death of them, although the empty formalities of the talks are neither side seeing much possible benefit to itself.

South Korea regards the North as still an implacable enemy for which the opening of peaceful talks in 1972 was only a tactical maneuver in the long-term goal of winning Communist control of the entire Korean peninsula.

North Korea has seemed to lose interest in the talks last year because it was not scoring the desired results. It turned to the United Nations but the general assembly has refused to intervene in peninsula relations.

President Kim Il-Sung's Communist regime in the north is now waiting to see what developments from political agitation against President Park Chung Hee's staunchly anti-Communist regime.

The deadlock in the talks has prevented a new maneuver from the North. It is proposing a great national congress or a north-south political consultative conference, but the representative of all strata for realizing the reunification of Korea.

Kim runs a tightly monolithic Communist state in the north, controlling all organizations and "personages." But in the south a diversity of elements exists, and Kim would try to play upon any congress to weaken Park's side.

For this reason, the south rejects the idea. So long as the two regimes remain in power no significant break in the deadlock is in sight.

because the name of the city where the petitioners resided was not included on the petition.

Recall Secretary Paula B. West said, "It is only fair to point out that Mr. Conrassus truly refused the petitions on advice of attorney general, Tony Park."

"It is probably typical of Pete Conrassus as a gentleman to take the blame for not accepting the recall petition," said Mrs. West.

Park counsel rapped

POCATELLO, Idaho (UPI) — A citizens group seeking recall of Pocatello Mayor Paul B. Conrassus, Tuesday criticized Attorney General W. Anthony Park for his "ill-advised counsel" not to accept the recall petitions.

The Idaho Supreme Court ruled last week that Secretary of State Pete Conrassus should have accepted the more than 2,500 recall signatures.

Conrassus had refused them

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Internal organs puzzle owners

By GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am in my 70s and enjoy very good health except for one ailment diagnosed by a gynecologist as atrophic vaginitis. What can be done about this?

Mrs. M. T.

This is a thinning of the lining of the vagina, and not uncommon at your age.

When your glands are producing adequate female hormones, the vaginal membrane has a soft, pink, slightly moist appearance.

When estrogen (female hormone) production becomes low, the membrane changes, becomes thinner and shiny, and the cells lose their normal structure. This is atrophic, or senile, vaginitis. The condition is controlled by the use of estrogen either as a vaginal cream or suppository.

This should be done daily until the membrane resumes more normal appearance. This Pap smear every six to 12 months is advisable.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been informed by my doctor that I have an inflamed gall bladder and it might have to be removed. How would my body function with removal of the gall bladder?

Mrs. E. G.

The gall bladder is a reservoir for bile, an important digestive juice. After its removal you still will get plenty of bile, except that it will go to the small intestine directly. The only likely problem is with heavy eaters, particularly those who eat a lot of fats, who may have digestive problems. For the average eater, no difficulty.

Dear Sir: My husband has cirrhosis of the liver, diagnosed by biopsy over a year ago. A day doesn't go by that he doesn't have several drinks (vodka) — not to the stupid stage but there is a personality change if I cross him.

Knowing he has this disease leaves me with a feeling of doom and is wrecking my nerves. Doctor I have spoken to give me no advice. They shake their heads and say "too bad."

Can you give me any thoughts on this to "ease my worry"? B.J.B.

"No," can't, because alcohol is sheer poison to a patient with cirrhosis, and your husband undoubtedly has been told so. I don't know what the doctors can make him quit drinking; he has to do it himself. All they can do is tell the consequences if he doesn't stop.

The only solace I can offer is slim; perhaps he will get sick enough so he realizes that he must stop drinking, and perhaps he will look this up and find out about before his liver has passed the point of no return.

There isn't any point in trying to gloss over the disaster that is bound to come sooner or later. If he keeps on with his vodka, or anything alcoholic, including beer and wine, you might consider a group of persons having alcoholics in their families.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our daughter, 16 months old and a little on the chubby side, seems to be pigeon-toed. She trips often. Are there exercises we can do to correct this, or will she need special shoes? — J.Y.

She needs an examination to see what is wrong. The probability is that she will need special shoes.

CRAIG LINCOLN
... new Eagle

Boy Scout honored at Filer

FILER — Craig Lincoln recently received the Eagle Scout award at a Court of Honor in the Knoll Grange Hall.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lincoln and is a member of Scout Troop 63 which is sponsored by the Knoll Grange. Bob Rowe is scoutmaster.

The Eagle Scout completed Webelos rank in the Cub Scouts and received his God and Country award last spring in the United Methodist Church. He is the third scout to attain the Eagle rank in the troop and his two brothers also have received their Eagle rank in the same troop.

Road panel formed in Ketchum

KETCHUM — A group has been formed to push for a straightened, widened class A highway through the Wood River Valley.

According to Marilyn Leaning, East Fork, coordinator for the Highway 93 Committee, the group has presently collected about 2,000 petition signatures favoring its position.

Leaning said the committee was initiated by a group of "concerned people" which "decided we need some representation, some visibility in opposing the highway department proposal of a four-lane highway."

The committee's purpose, she said, is to "try to let the people know what they don't have to accept a four-lane to improve the present road conditions, that there is a viable alternative in an improved two-lane highway."

Public hearings on the location of Highway 93 and State Highway 75 are scheduled for April 23 at Ketchum and April 24 at Bailey.

Leaning said, in talking to residents, "the real sentiment seems to favor a two-lane road."

The committee, she said, plans to continue a "public awareness" campaign "right up to the hearings." The group also intends to submit testimony at the hearings and Leaning said she would encourage all other residents to submit both written and verbal testimony.

Residents who have testimony and desire the group to present it at the hearings may mail it to the Highway 93 Committee, P.O. Box 388, Sun Valley. The group's telephone number is 726-5901-Ketchum.

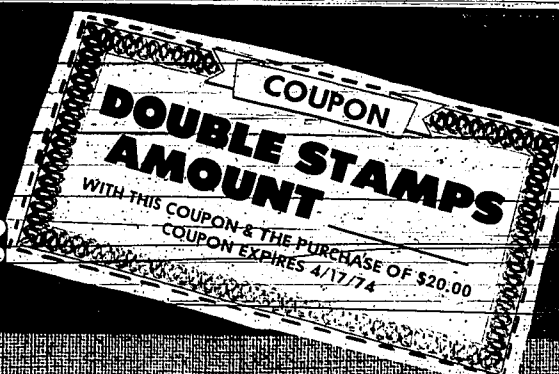

Reasons that the group opposes a four-lane highway, Leaning said, include: "It would have a severe effect on our valley; there will be some increase in air and noise pollution because of an increase in traffic; an increased number of wildlife would be killed; the proposal would undoubtedly decrease the property tax base, and if some proposals are accepted, they would kill future railroad use by utilizing the railroad right-of-way."

Leaning also said that a four-lane highway would "increase the population density which is already at a maximum number by providing an easier access."

Further, because of the present property value level, Leaning said, "relocating displaced businesses and residents would be difficult and expensive."

Rulings restrict defense

(C) NEW YORK TIMES SERVICE
NEW YORK — Judge Lee P. Guagliardi made two rulings today that seriously restricted the limited defense of John A. Mitchell and Maurice H. Stans in their criminal conspiracy trial.

It was a day in which Robert H. Finch, former secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, and Chicago millionaire, among others, testified for the defense, but it was the judge's rulings that were the important happenings.

First he ruled that it was not relevant to the issues in this particular trial to call as witnesses former political campaign managers, including campaign managers for Democrats. The defense wanted to call such witnesses to show that Stans had followed "accepted" practices, not "fraudulent practices" in his fund-raising for President Nixon's re-election campaign.

Then the judge ruled that he would not allow the defense to put on the witness stand other witnesses who were large contributors to the Nixon campaign.

The defense wanted to do this to show that a number of persons had made very large contributions to the President's campaign, that many of them insisted on anonymity, and that there had been no question for those contributions.

What went through their minds is not relevant, as to what went through Mr. Stans' mind as a criminal intent, Guagliardi said.

Mitchell, former attorney general, and Stans, former secretary of commerce, are charged with conspiracy, perjury and obstruction of justice. Both men were leaders of the Nixon re-election campaign. The government contends that they attempted to quash a Securities and Exchange Commission investigation of Robert J. Vesco, the fugitive financier who was also indicted in this case, in return for a secret $200,000 contribution by Vesco to the President's re-election campaign.

Small boy blamed for fire

CLOUDCROFT, N.M. (UPI) — Firefighters halted a blaze in the Lincoln National Forest Tuesday after flames started by a small boy playing with matches surged for three days through 14,670 acres and two small resort towns.

"We've got a handle on it, but our forecaster says winds are supposed to pick up again in 30 miles an hour," said Forest Service spokesman Frank Carroll.

"We still have about five land-movers working on the northeast side and we hope to be able to mop it back far enough so that we won't have any trouble when the winds come," some 1,000 firefighters were on the scene.

The fire erupted Saturday 30 miles south of the scene of the Capitol Mountain fire 24 years ago, in which firefighters saved an injured black bear cub who grew up to be "Smokey the Bear," of the Forest Service's fire prevention program.

Smokey now lives in the National Zoo in Washington.

A 10-year-old boy playing with matches was blamed for the Lincoln fire. His parents could be billed an estimated $300,000 in firefighting cost if negligence is proven, but a state official said the "doubtful" charges would be pressed against the unidentified youngster.

The youngster and his parents apparently started a "warrior" camp in a small, remote campground in an area known as Spring Canyon. High winds quickly whipped the fire out of control.

The parents apparently were doing some work nearby and weren't watching, said a Forest Service spokesman. The parents left, but said, without reporting the fire.

Carroll said that the 300 men manning fire lines through the night were stationed on the northeast side to keep the fire from jumping lines just two miles south of the small town of Marshall. Fire boss Wes La-throw pronounced the fire controlled "just before dark" after crews cut a 10-mile swath around the blaze.

New Mexico Lt. Gov. Robert Montoya surveyed the fire Tuesday after declaring it a disaster. He said the fire's destruction, Montoya estimated damages at $21.6 million.

THE RUBBLE of a building lies in the scorched Lincoln National Forest where 14,670 acres of timber were destroyed, the fire, raging since April 6, was contained Tuesday, (UPI)

'Mandatory life' bill approved

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (UPI) — Legislators in the Virgin Islands, which has been rocked by a series of racial murders, have approved a bill imposing mandatory life imprisonment without parole for first-degree murder.

The territorial legislature adopted the measure Tuesday despite strong objections from some legal authorities. Gov. Melvin H. Evans, an advocate of the move, was expected to sign the bill into law.

The Virgin Islands has been hit by a series of violent crimes, much of it racially inspired, during the last few years, hindering the American territory's vital tourist industry.

The bill, which passed the Senate by a 9-4 vote, replaced a measure providing for a minimum 25 years sentence before a person convicted of first degree murder could be paroled.

The Caribbean territory eliminated the death sentence for murder convictions in the 1930s.

For the country that for Nixon to face impeachment or to resign.

Rather told the final meeting of the National School Boards Association he is unsure if enough evidence exists to remove Nixon from office, but said the U.S. House "will give the Senate the chance to try him."

Rather suggests leave

HOUSTON (UPI) — President Nixon should take an extended leave of absence under provisions in the 25th Amendment and let Vice President Gerald Ford run the country, CBS White House correspondent Don Rather said Tuesday.

He said that would be better for the country than for Nixon to face impeachment or to resign.

Exposed passengers contacted

ATLANTA (UPI) — Delta Air Lines, citing the danger as "minimal," said Tuesday night it will contact each of the 130 passengers who may have been exposed to the radioactive chemical cesium-137 on two flights last week.

Delta is now in the process of contacting each passenger who rode either of the two flights to explain the type of medical examination which the passengers may desire to undergo "at the company's expense," the airline said in a statement.

The radioactive material was located in the cargo bins in the rear section of the aircraft, and Delta believes on the basis of early reports of its investigation that exposure to passengers was minimal.

The flight was Delta No. 311 between Washington and Atlanta and on April 5, and Delta No. 585 between Atlanta and Baton Rouge, La., on April 6.

The possibility of exposure was discovered when crews found that a shipment of solid cesium 137 carried in the cargo compartments of the two planes had been improperly shielded.

Father sentenced to prison

CHICAGO (UPI) — A father who was convicted of beating his 7-year-old son to death Tuesday was sentenced to a three-to-10-year prison term.

William Lindquist, 32, stood silently before Circuit Court Judge Philip Romiti Tuesday and then buried his face in his hands when Romiti pronounced sentence.

Lindquist was convicted March 15 of involuntary manslaughter and aggravated battery. The charge was the death of his son, Johnny Lindquist, in August of 1972.

"It is obvious that the minimum sentence is neither acceptable nor warranted," Romiti said. "The maximum sentence is proper and will be imposed."

Socialist win eyed in France

PARIS (UPI) — Socialist presidential candidate Francois Mitterrand and his Communist allies said today the Gaullists were so badly split that the left stands a good chance of winning the French presidential elections.

Mitterrand, 57, standard-bearer of all major left-wing parties, said in an interview in the newspaper France Soir that "for the first time victory is possible. The whole country has this feeling and this expectation is speeding things up."

The Communist daily newspaper l'Humanite said: "In the ranks of the Gaullists, the chaos is worse than ever." A left-wing victory "is not only necessary and reasonable, but it has henceforth become possible."

National Assembly Speaker Edgar Faure, 65, a liberal Gaullist, announced he has definitely withdrawn his candidature. But the Gaullist coalition still remained divided.

In several clans, the two most powerful ones being led respectively by ex-Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas and Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing.

Premier Pierre Messmer briefly stepped into the political arena Tuesday, urging all the multiple Gaullist candidates to pull out and allow him to run as the sole heir to President Georges Pompidou, whose death April 2 triggered the campaign for the May 5 election.

Messmer's last-minute bid to accept Gaullist unity failed when Chaban-Delmas flatly refused to stand down.

"There is no heir to Gaullism, Georges Pompidou's death has ended this Gaullist dynasty. It's finished. Nothing will be the same again," said Mitterrand. He scheduled a strategy meeting tonight with Communist party Secretary-General Georges Marchais to launch what his aides said will be a sweeping.

DST repeal urged

HOUSTON (UPI) — The National School Boards Association Tuesday urged Congress to repeal Daylight Saving Time for the safety of children who must go to school in the dark.

Barbara Reimers, president of the group, said after a meeting of the general assembly that the association's governing body called on Congress and President Nixon to restore standard time from November through February.

"The safety of school children cannot be compromised," she said.

The association also passed a resolution urging school districts to conserve energy.

Under urban education, we asked that extra funding from federal and state sources be allocated directly to city school boards to meet their unusual needs," said Mrs. Reimers, of Branford, Conn. "And on the ever-present issue of impact aid to school districts with military and other government installations, we called on the government to include public housing in this program."

The association took a solid stand against federal laws to permit binding arbitration for school teachers' contracts.

Strike hits Japan

TOKYO (UPI) — Workers for government-controlled Japan National Railways (JNR) struck today, plunging the nation into the worst rail shutdown since the end of World War II.

But trucks at terminals were deserted. Union leaders said more than half of the 280,000 JNR engineers and conductors had virtually crippled rail service throughout Japan.

Only commuter trains in Tokyo and other major cities were in operation but they ran at reduced speeds as the motorists adhered to a union go-slow campaign that began Monday.

Police said 12 passengers were injured slightly early today when they were caught off balance in crowded rail stations and fell onto the tracks.

Japan's rail traffic is expected to be totally halted Tuesday when workers of private railway companies go on strike.

Survival talk set

RUPERT — Professor Larry Dean Olsen, Brigham Young University, will speak on outdoor survival Friday at 7:30 p.m. at the Rupert Fourth Ward LDS Church.

Olsen, a former Jerome resident, has extensive experience on the subject. He teaches outdoor survival at BYU and has written several books concerning survival techniques.

The lecture, particularly of interest to fishermen, hunters, scouts and campers, is open to the public. There is no admission charge.

Jelly beans short

NEW YORK (UPI) — Jelly beans, a traditional Easter candy, will be in short supply this year, according to R.E. Ferguson of the F.W. Woolworth Co.

He said Monday that the scarcity is due to difficulties manufacturers are having with the rise in the cost of sugar, syrup, flavoring and packaging of the candy.

Servicemen

TWIN FALLS — LTC O. D. Cryder, Twin Falls, was awarded the "meritorious service medal" March 25.

LTC Cryder retired January 17 after 34 years of military service. His last assignment was as regimental executive officer in the 116th Armored Cavalry headquartered in Twin Falls.

The "meritorious service medal" is awarded for achievements in the highest traditions of the United States Army.

Three Gooding teachers resign

GOODING — The Gooding School Board accepted the resignations of three teachers at a meeting Monday evening.

Resigning were Burton Bruns, high school basketball coach and science instructor; Paula Miller, elementary teacher; and Mrs. Pauline Byram, who is taking early retirement.

According to superintendent of schools James Muscat, district teaching staff vacancies include high school — PE and health, high school arts and crafts, high school biology, two junior high science and math positions, two second grade positions, and three special education positions.

The board hired Craig Ashton, Pocastello, as elementary school physical education instructor. The newly created position will provide for organized physical education at the elementary level. In the past, the only program was that which existed within each classroom.

Muscat said normal inflationary increases will raise this year's school budget over 20 per cent. He and the board reviewed the district's income and budget but did not set any tentative budget figures. He said there will be no new programs or major expenditures in the 1974-1975 budget.

The same 4 trustee seat currently occupied by Clark Sears will be open in the annual trustee election which is set for May 21.

A summer driver's education program for about 105 students was approved.

AT SCOTT, Dietrich, shows a hand-braided bridle he made this past winter. He spent the winter with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Scott, Kettle Falls, Wash. They were snowed in for six months in the northeastern section of the state. The bridle consists of 250 yards of lace and 22 feet of nylon cord.

Hunter-jumper class set for horsemen

JEROME — A clinic for horse enthusiasts interested in learning more about jumping and hunting competition will be held here in May.

The clinic will be at Simpson's Arena just off Interstate 20, one mile south and three miles west of Jerome. It will cover hunt seat, steeplechase and hunter-jumper classes.

Arrangements have been made for Mrs. Gay Piper to conduct the training sessions. She is operator of a training stable in Concord, Calif., and has trained many top junior riders. Her own horse, "Every Family," was the "B" show champion hunter on the Pacific Coast last year.

The clinic is open to all interested persons and will be geared to the aptitude of the individual horse and rider. It will be of interest to both beginner and advanced riders, and open or trained horses. Depending on the number of persons enrolling, the classes will be divided as to general ability of the horse and rider. Each division is expected to be limited to 8 or 10 horses and riders.

Enrollment is on a first come first served basis and reservations should be made as soon as possible. Entries will close April 15.

Entry blanks and information may be obtained from Norma Viorsten, Buhl, 543-4745; Fran Golding, Jerome, 324-2102; Lucille Bickell, Gooding, 324-4745; Sharyn Olsen, Wendell, 536-2256; or Sandy Birnie, Bliss, 532-2280.

Space snags Gem revamp

BOISE (UPI) — Government reorganization has run into its first snag—space.

D.E. "Skip" Chilberg, director of administrative services, said the Department of Water Administration wants to consolidate its operations with the Water Resource Board—two agencies which are scheduled to merge July 1—and he cannot find enough space for them.

He said other departments begin preparing for the new setup the problem very likely will get worse.

Part of the problem, he said, is the fact the Legislature defeated a concurrent resolution which would have approved construction of a new State Office Building with insurance fund reserves.

Proposed by Gov. Cecil D. Andrus last year, the idea was rejected and approved in the courts. Then Andrus asked the Legislature to "review" the plan.

A Senate concurrent resolution giving the plan legislative okay failed in the Senate.

Chilberg said he was uncertain what the governor now will do.

He did say that Andrus simply asked the Legislature to "review" the proposal and added "we do have" the legitimacy of it established.

If Andrus decides to go ahead with the proposal despite the Legislature's refusal to approve it, the state would get an additional 100,000 square feet of office space. The plan calls for building five stories above ground and one story below ground across the street from the Ben B. Jordan Office Building.

It would cost about $1 million and would be financed from insurance fund reserves. It would be paid off in 20 years at 7.5 per cent interest through rent. Upon completion of the payments, title of the building would pass to the state.

Chilberg said the state is already renting 200,000 square feet of office space in Boise. He said it is rising constantly, and it is now impossible to get space for less than $6 per square foot and "we're lucky to get that anymore."

With the insurance fund proposal, he said, the state could be cut to about $1 per square foot.

This last session of the Legislature created a State Building Authority which has the power to construct buildings with revenue bonds. However, the bill specifies that the building authority must have prior legislative approval of the project.

Before the administration decides what it is going to do about the insurance fund plan, Chilberg said, "we'll consult with the Permanent Building Fund Advisory Council." That Council meets April 18 in Boise.

Aide slain

BELFAST (UPI) — Irish Republican Army (IRA) gunmen burst into a crowded primary school near the border today and killed the school's principal in a deluge of gunfire, police said.

A police spokesman said the four gunmen entered the school, a retired military officer, in the school's kitchen and killed him with bullets as children attended classes in adjacent rooms.

In Belfast, the Ulster Defense Association (UDA), the largest militant Protestant organization in Northern Ireland, said it is polling its members to find out whether they should adopt an aggressive posture in the province.

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man's challenge to the Idaho Employment Department's employee promotion practices has been overruled by a state hearing officer.

The appeal of Royal C. Slotten, a Twin Falls Employment Department staffer, against the department and the Idaho Personnel Commission, was denied by personnel commission hearing officer Paul Boyd.

In his appeal, Slotten charged that the department had violated Idaho law by bypassing the merit system in filling two departmental positions.

The openings involved managerial positions in the Jerome and Gooding offices of the Department of Employment.

Even persons applied for the Jerome job and eight for the Gooding post, with some employees, including Slotten, applying for both. Slotten asserted the vacancies should have been filled from a departmental promotional register established on the basis of competitive examinations.

Instead, Slotten charges, the department arbitrarily invoked a special exception rule and filled the positions on the recommendations of a specially appointed three-man rating board.

The rating board made selections on the basis of applications and personnel files. No oral interviews or practical written examinations were given, according to the legal brief submitted by Slotten.

Slotten and his attorney Monte B. Carlson said the closed system of rating by three persons who may or may not know all of the applicants personally, hardly seems a fair and objective examination.

"At best it seems a rather subjective procedure, expressly contrary to the open competitive standards intended by a merit system," Carlson emphasized.

Carlson emphasized that Slotten is "contesting the procedure on which the selections are made. He didn't complain because he didn't get the job, he complained because he thought the selection process was inappropriate."

The merit system as routinely used by the state involves a promotional register established on the basis of exams. Employees are rated by their scores, and supervisors are required to hire one of the top three employees on the appropriate register to fill a vacant position.

The intent of the system, is to facilitate advancement of skilled and qualified employees within the department and to provide for entrance opportunities for capable persons outside the organization.

The maintenance of a merit system of employment is required because "the department is a totally federally-funded program, the legal memorandum states.

Slotten said this merit system should be used for employment, department managerial positions. But the personnel commission answered that promotional registers are used primarily for general occupations common to all departments, such as clerical classes.

The rating board method has been widely and consistently used by the department in filling promotional vacancies, according to Slotten's legal memorandum.

The use of a rating board is provided for by rule 18-2.2 of the Idaho Personnel Commission which states if no register exists, and if no examination for that class is being given or is open when the vacancy occurs, "the appointing authority may fill the position by the promotion of a qualified permanent employee by a non-competitive promotional examination."

But according to Idaho Code Section 87-5307, the personnel commission "is required to establish a rule requiring fair and impartial selection of appointees to all positions . . . on the basis of open competitive merit examinations."

Employment registers shall be established in order of final score.

In denying Slotten's appeal, Boyd stated, "I find no constitutional basis for any regulation for the creation or maintenance of the register for every position or classification."

Slotten may appeal the decision to the personnel commission, which will either confirm, modify, or deny it, according to Boyd. After that, if the complainant is still unsatisfied, he can take the appeal to district court, Boyd said.

Wilson's message burned

LONDON (UPI) — A property dealer involved in a land transaction that embarrassed Prime Minister Harold Wilson says he burned a letter bearing Wilson's forged signature because of threats to his children.

A police spokesman said Ronald Milne, 32, told detectives he destroyed the letter several weeks ago after receiving two threatening telephone calls.

The letter, on Wilson's official House of Commons stationery, speaks cryptically about Milne's use of his discretion in the land deal, which occurred at a time when Wilson and his Labor party members were sharply castigating the former Conservative party government over a land speculation.

The transaction itself was legal.

Milne received the letter while negotiating the purchase of 26 acres of industrial land from Anthony Field, a former Wilson aide and the brother of the prime minister's private secretary.

Milne contracted to purchase the site for $2.2 million from Field, his sister and others who had bought the land for $420,000.

Milne interviewed at his home. Milne confirmed that the letter no longer exists.

"Yes, I did destroy that letter several weeks ago," he said. "I burned it here at my home. Scotland Yard knows that I did."

The caller said he would kill my children if I handed over the letter to the police or newspapers.

Judge drops Nixon from Hoffa suit

(c) N.Y. Times Service
JANUARY 16 — A federal judge today dismissed President Nixon as a defendant from a lawsuit filed by former Teamster president James R. Hoffa.

Judge John H. Pratt of the United States District Court here said he was dropping Nixon as a defendant in the civil suit without prejudice to Hoffa's argument that the President had played an excessive and improper role in Hoffa's conviction.

The judge also said that the court was reserving the right to bring the President back into the lawsuit, which now has ALY Gen. William P. Saxie as the sole defendant.

Hoffa's lawyer, Leonard B. Boudin, said after the judge's ruling that he may have to seek a subpoena for Nixon's direct testimony in order to obtain the evidence, he said "was necessary for his case."

Boudin also said that he intended to obtain a subpoena requiring the White House to turn over tape recordings and documents related to Hoffa's release from prison.

Hoffa was released from Lewisburg prison in Pennsylvania in December 1971 after serving nearly four years of a 13-year sentence for mail fraud and jury tampering.

The instrument of his release was an executive order of clemency granted by Nixon.

The order, however, required that Hoffa, as a condition of release, refrain from official union activities until March, 1980.

US leadership asked

(c) Chicago Sun-Times
WASHINGTON — President Richard M. Nixon is asking the United States to give a little moral leadership for a change in a campaign to avert famine in countries containing nearly a fourth of the world's population.

Patricia Heschburg, president of the Notre Dame University, urged the appeal at a luncheon news briefing at the offices of the Overseas Development Council, of which he is chairman of the board.

The meeting was called to discuss a new report on impending shortages of food and other commodities.

Minimum wage pay okayed

BLISS — Bliss school trustees agreed to pay school employees the new federal minimum wages of $2 per hour.

At the Monday night meeting, construction of a concession stand at the athletic field was approved along with the wage increase. The building will be a memorial to Warren Peters, the Bliss industrial arts teacher who planned the project, and was killed in an auto accident last fall.

The trustees agreed to participate in a type II program which provides federal funds for purchase of library books and audio-visual equipment.

The Northside Gent and Hobby Show will be held in the high school gymnasium Saturday and Sunday.

The board approved the senior trip to Expo '74 in Seattle May 5-10.

Shoshone sets walkathon

SHOSHONE — A walkathon will be sponsored by Lincoln County citizens to raise funds toward a county swimming pool. The walk will take place on April 27 and begin at Richfield.

Participants will have an opportunity to walk approximately 20 miles from Richfield to the "cutoff" to Durbin and back from there to Shoshone.

Mrs. Lila Peterson is the general chairman, appointed at a special meeting Monday night at the Manhattan Cafe.

Walkers are soliciting sponsors and people of all ages are encouraged to participate.

School bus overturns

BURLEY — A Cassia County school bus overturned this morning before any school children were picked up.

Mrs. Charlotte Sheffler, Burley, was not injured when the bus was driving skidded on a county road south of Burley and overturned in the borrow pit.

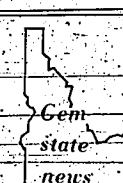

The bus was traveling on a roadway made slippery by early morning snow.

Charges unsubstantiated

BOISE (UPI) — An administrative investigation into allegations of brutality in handling of a prisoner indicates the charges are unsubstantiated, according to Police Chief John Church.

"I am satisfied that no officer overstepped his limits," Church said.

Bill Robinson, 39, Boise, claimed he was beaten by officers after being arrested March 17.

Seeks post

BOISE (UPI) — Hope Kadig, Boise, has taken out nominating petitions for lieutenant governor.

Wife of attorney R. B. Kading Jr., Mrs. Kadig is expected to announce her candidacy for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor.

Others who have indicated interest in the race are Pat Harwood of Caldwell and State Rep. Vernon Ravenscroft, R-Tuttle.

Lawyers to meet in Boise

BOISE (UPI) — A nationally prominent expert in preparing and using photographs in civil cases will be among the featured speakers at the annual convention of the Idaho Trial Lawyers Association Thursday in Boise.

Association President James May of Twin Falls said that S. G. Ehrlich would be one of several speakers who would address the convention.

May said Ehrlich has specialized in the preservation of physical evidence and the preparation of court exhibits in jurisdictions throughout the west.

Also appearing at the convention, May said, will be a nationally prominent personal injury attorney and an expert in medical-legal relationships.

Robert Castwright of San Francisco, president elect of the association of trial lawyers of America, will address the gathering.

Sheriff refuses prisoner

CALDWELL (UPI) — J. B. Marshalls will have to look somewhere else other than the Canyon County Jail to house a federal prisoner convicted of possession of heroin.

Canyon County Sheriff George W. Nozick said Tuesday he had refused to accept Lloyd Harrod, 46, Caldwell, who was fined $500 for possession of heroin and sentenced to five years for conspiracy with four and one-half years suspended.

Dworshak Dam cited

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Dworshak Dam and Reservoir in Idaho were cited Tuesday as the 10 outstanding engineering achievements in the United States during 1973.

The dam, named after the late Idaho Sen. Henry C. Dworshak, was honored by the National Society of Professional Engineers.

The society noted the dam, located on the Clearwater River about four miles from Orofino, Idaho, provides flood control and electric power generation to the Pacific Northwest Power Pool and includes recreation sites, water activities and fishing sites along 175 miles of shoreline.

Buhl pastor speaks

BURL — Rev. Hugh B. Garner, pastor of the Buhl First Presbyterian Church, spoke about Easter at the weekly meeting of the Buhl Chamber of Commerce Monday.

He said the principles of Easter and the Lenten period are compatible with the business climate. Loy Spradling will be program chairman for next week's luncheon meeting, according to Hal Walker, vice president.

Spring snowstorm causes havoc

By United Press International

A mid-Spring snowstorm dumped up to a foot of heavy, wet snow along the Wasatch Front, snarled morning rush-hour traffic and knocked out power in sections of northern Utah.

The main center of the storm passed over the Salt Lake Valley, dumping more than an inch and a third of precipitation at the National Weather Service reporting station.

Snow depths topped one foot along the bench areas in Salt Lake City and Bonanza, and more than 10 inches fell in the higher mountain east of Salt Lake City. Up to a half foot of the sticky wet snow was reported in Utah and Weber counties. Further north, Malad and Pocatello in Idaho both reported five inches of snow on the ground at 6 a.m.

Holy week services set

TWIN FALLS — Holy Week services are planned in most Magic Valley churches Thursday night in commemoration of the Last Supper.

Good Friday services will not be as plentiful with the imminent Lutheran and Ascension Episcopal churches the only ones planning services in Twin Falls besides St. Edward's Catholic Church where Stations of the Cross are planned at 7:15 p.m. Good Friday rites are set for 7:30 p.m.

Lutheran businessmen through Magic Valley are participating in a Tre Ore service from noon to 3 p.m. Friday at Immanuel Lutheran Church, Elmer Avenue East.

The public is invited and the service will be divided into seven segments of about 20 minutes' duration, followed by a brief intermission to allow worshippers to come and go.

Meditations centered upon the seven last words of Christ on the cross will be delivered by Rev. Leonard Scholz, Rupert; R. J. Scholz, Buhl; Donald Becker, Burley; E. Eugene, Wendell; Gary Benedix, Eden; Eugene, Tarkas, Twin Falls; Our Savior, and a dialogue presentation by Thomas Johnston and D. Lutzsch, Elmer.

Special music will include the choir of Trinity Lutheran Church at Eden, quartets from St. Paul's Church, Jerome, and by Magic Valley pastors, and vocal solos by Mrs. Henry Westendorf, Rupert, and Mrs. Duane Lampe, Twin Falls.

Pastors Thomas Burton, Jerome; Donald Winterford, host pastor, and E. J. Bernthal, Twin Falls, will serve as liturgists.

A traditional three-hour service from noon to 3 p.m. is also planned at the Ascension Episcopal Church, based on Christ's agony on the cross. One section of the service will be repeated at 7 p.m. Friday.

The Episcopal Church's Maundy Thursday observance will begin with a family potluck dinner at 6 p.m. followed by commemoration of the Last Supper, before the trial and crucifixion. This 7 p.m. service will include stripping of the altar and a silent vigil until the beginning of Good Friday.

The Valley Presbyterian Church at Hazelton will hold Good Friday services at 8 p.m.

Rev. Robert Van Meter, Twin Falls, as speaker. Women at the First Christian Church in Twin Falls have scheduled a breakfast at 10 a.m. Friday honoring graduating seniors.

At Hazelton, a Good Friday service is planned at 7:30 p.m. in the Hazelton United High.

At the Twin Falls First United Methodist Church a sacrificial meal is planned at 6:30 p.m. Thursday as part of the women's division observance of prayer and self-denial. The women will then attend the 7:30 p.m. communion services in the sanctuary which will include a special cantata "The Seven Last Words" by the church choir directed by A. B. (Rip) Gerdes.

Communion services are also planned at the First Presbyterian Church at 8:30 a.m. Thursday and the First Christian Church at 8 a.m. as well as most other area churches.

Our Savior Lutheran Church will hold communion services at 7:30 p.m. today because the church building at 1708 Heyburn Avenue East is shared with the Valley Christians who will conduct their services Thursday night.

Holy Thursday Mass will be celebrated at 7:30 p.m. at St. Edward's Church in addition to the daily masses at 8 a.m. and 9:30 a.m.

Legal snag voids bid

RUPERT — The original bid for the new Minidoka County judicial building has been voided because of a legal problem.

The contract now goes to Nielsen and Co., Twin Falls.

Nielsen protested the bid from Taysom Construction Co. of Pocatello for the project which had been awarded to Taysom at the March 22 bid opening meeting of the commissioners.

Nielsen and Co. sent a written protest claiming the bid was void because of a legal problem. The subcontractor who would do the electrical work for the building.

The Twin Falls construction was the second low bidder for the project with a bid of $320,000 higher than Taysom's. Taysom's bid was $396,500.

The commissioners heard arguments from representatives of both companies at a meeting April 1 where it was decided that Nielsen was the lowest responsible bidder.

The contract was awarded to Nielsen by unanimous decision of the county commissioners.

TF aides eye zoning plan

Leonard confirmed that, if held, the public meeting would delay final action at least until next week.

City planner David Ritchey went to Pocatello Monday to discuss the current version of the zoning ordinance with Ross Fasolino, the Idaho State University instructor who wrote the first draft of the measure.

Fasolino has objected to several changes in later versions. Ritchey reported Tuesday that he and Fasolino are very close to agreement on the latest draft, now being considered by the county commissioners. Amendments have brought the measure almost "full circle," back to Fasolino's original plan, Ritchey said.

"The only major point of disagreement between Ritchey and Fasolino," Ritchey said, "is the zoning law should be considered an interim measure that will be amended when the county land use plan is completed."

Fasolino says any new law should be a permanent law, with very few changes after adoption, according to Ritchey.

High winds whip across TF county

TWIN FALLS — Several minor electrical blackouts were reported Tuesday night as 35 to 50 miles per hour winds hit Twin Falls County.

Power was out for about an hour and a half in the Eden-Hazelton, Milner and Oakley areas after a tree blew across a main power line in a field south of Highway 2.

The blackout occurred about 11:30 p.m. according to Idaho Power Co. maintenance engineer James Johnstone.

Eden, Milner and Oakley areas were reported to have power, but in Twin Falls, Idaho, said they were minor.

The 50 mph (from Twin Falls to Boise) was cancelled when the plane was unable to land at the Twin Falls airport due to a power blackout. Airport manager Larry Matrey said a line was blown off a transformer causing a partial blackout for two to three hours. There was no damage to planes at the airport, he said.

Murtaugh levy vote set

MURTAUGH — Murtaugh School District will hold a special override levy election May 2.

According to Supt. Florio Hulse voters have approved override levies the past several years. Last year the election was for 4 mills and the year before, 6 mills.

Indication is the reason for the mills being needed this year, he said. "Voting" will be conducted from 7 to 8 p.m. in the Murtaugh High School auditorium and at the Robert Altus Home in Cassia County.

Patrons may vote in either location, but according to law a school district which includes more than one county must have a polling place in each county, Hulse said.

He said even with the 10-mill override the total levy will be 3 mills below two years ago. Trustees accepted the resignation of Ellen Starny, who has been teaching in the superintendent and also clerk of the school board.

Dust storms were reported on rural roads throughout the county, but none of them caused accidents. The Twin Falls City and County road departments reported no damage from the wind other than a few blown over signs.

Interstate 80 was closed at the Salt Lake interchange south of Ogden, due to blowing snow, Idaho State Police reported. The state police said, however, no accidents due to the wind were reported.

Several high power, telephone or cablevision lines were reported in Twin Falls police during the night, and in downtown Twin Falls a television antenna was blown off a furniture store. Part of the fence at the Joyce hall park was also down.

The sheriff's office received reports of dust storms near Hansen and along Rock Creek Canyon Road. A fire was reported blown across a county road southeast of Buhl.

Tentative zones protect canyon rim

Proposed minimum lot sizes for the R1 zone are one-half acre when septic tanks are used and 10,350 square feet when serviced by public sewers.

Principal uses listed in the R1 zone are single family dwellings; public parks, golf courses, parking lots, churches, subdivisions, and other uses. Conditional uses include planned unit developments, schools and private educational buildings and private non-commercial recreation areas.

The least and least restrictive residential zone is R2M. The current draft of the ordinance lists mobile home parks as a conditional use in the R2M zone, making it the most likely area for location of the trailer parks.

Minimum lot sizes proposed for the RM zone are one-half acre when septic tanks are used and 10,350 square feet when serviced by public sewers.

Mobile home park lots are covered by a special provision in the RM zone. A maximum of seven trailer spaces per acre is allowed.

Mobile home parks also are banned within one-quarter mile of the College of Southern Idaho campus.

Principal uses listed in the RM zone are single family dwellings, two family dwellings served by public sewers, public parks, golf courses, parking lots, churches, subdivisions, home occupations and accessory buildings.

Conditional uses, rather than mobile home parks, are planned unit developments, three or more dwelling units, schools and private educational buildings, and subdivisions of lots.

A completely new procedure for handling conditional use applications is proposed in the new ordinance.

It calls for establishing a three-member review committee that will consider all conditional use requests.

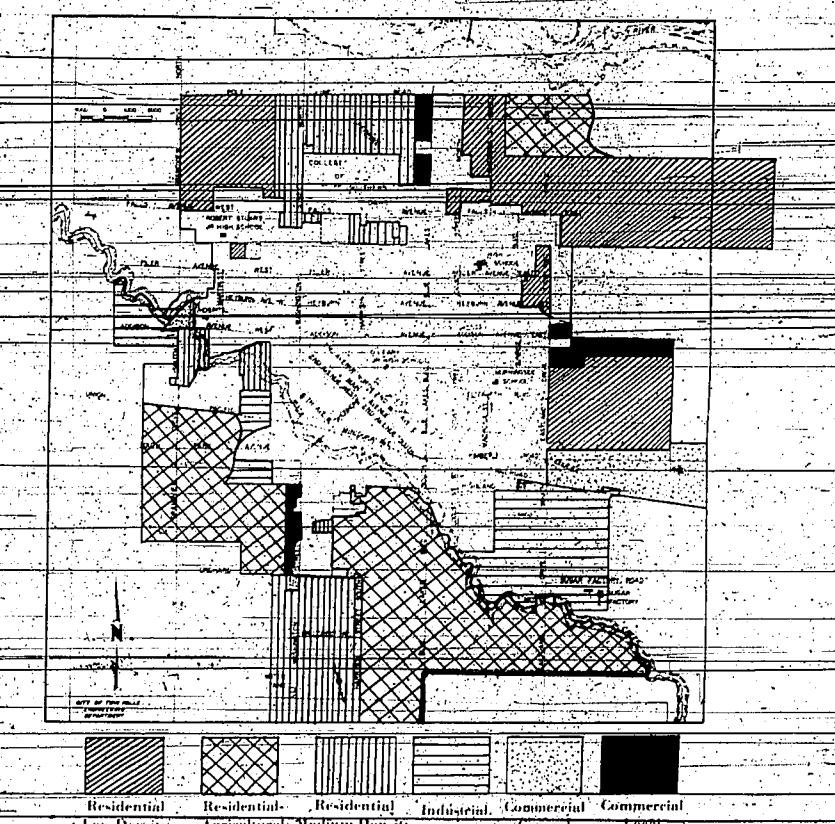

The committee, composed of two county commissioners and one county commissioner, would have authority to approve conditional use applications provided they are determined to be an appropriate use of the land at the proposed location and provided they will not have an adverse effect upon adjoining developed land.

The review committee would talk to adjoining landowners concerning the proposed conditional use, and if no adverse impact is found, approve the use without review of county zoning and commissioners.

If an adverse impact is possible or if any review committee members oppose approval of the conditional use, the application would be referred to the county planning and zoning commission for public hearing and a final decision by the county commissioners.

The OR zone, a new designation for areas having "a potential for recreational use," has a minimum lot size of five acres in the proposed ordinance. The OR zone, as proposed, will take in all of the Snake River Canyon below the rim, Murtaugh Lake, Salmon Dam, Roseworth Reservoir and the Nat-Soo Dam recreation area.

TENTATIVE map of county zoning around Twin Falls City shows addition of two new zones — residential-agricultural and residential low density. The Snake River Canyon rim is designated agricultural (all unmarked areas) under the proposed law. The residential low density zone has been extended to the east.

Market Review

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stock prices opened slightly higher in sluggish trading on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average has risen 0.16 to 847.00 a few minutes after the opening bell. Gainers outnumbered losers by nearly two to one among the 410 issues traded. Investors remain concerned by the current sharp climb in short-term interest rates, particularly the prime lending rate. On Monday, Bankers Trust Co. of New York boosted the rate it charges its top-rated business borrowers to 10 percent, thus matching the record levels set late in 1973. Several other banks have since followed with similar increases. Analysts say the stock market always has difficulties in the face of climbing interest rates, since the cost of doing business goes up, and higher yields in the money markets place common stocks with stiff competition.

On Tuesday, stock prices rose in quiet trading, partly reflecting a flow of encouraging first-quarter earnings reports. The Dow climbed 6.88 to 848.84.

Nicklaus says game's in good shape for Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Nicklaus is the man. No doubt about it. But the blond bomber looked the 38th Masters' field squarely in the eye Tuesday and said, "Most of the game is in pretty darned good shape for a change."

Paul Getty saying he's got a shot for making money. Nicklaus arrived at the Augusta National Golf Club Tuesday afternoon after three days at home in North Palm Beach, Fla. He played three practice rounds at Augusta last week, skipping the Greater Greensboro Open before spending three days with his family at home.

He played two rounds of golf at Lost Tree Village while he was home. Nicklaus will be the favorite, if there can be such a thing in "playoff" field, which play begins Thursday. The 39 total, including six amateurs and 13 foreigners represent the lowest number of Masters' contestants since 1971, when 77 played.

But if Nicklaus is feeling the heat of being the favorite, as he almost always is at the major championships, he wasn't showing it Tuesday. In fact, he seemed to enjoy it.

"I'm not used to this," he said. "I'm never going to be in the 34-year-old winner of 14 major championships. But once everybody hits off the tee, all that's over. I'm just dreading the day when I'm not the favorite. I'm glad people think enough of my game to make me the favorite."

Nicklaus, who has won here four times like Arnold Palmer, holds the Masters record of 17-under-par 271, which he set in 1965 when he blizzed the field by an amazing nine shots.

Astros whip Padres while new S. D. owner criticizes team

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — Cesar Cedeno drove in four runs and Larry Dierker, attempting a comeback after pitching only 27 innings last season, picked up his first win with a strong seven-inning effort Tuesday night as the Houston Astros beat the San Diego Padres 9-5.

New Padres owner Ray Kroc publicly criticized his club once the public address system at the top of the eighth before a record-breaking opening night.

Dodgers rip Atlanta 9-2
ATLANTA (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the Atlanta Braves, 9-2, Tuesday night as Don Sutton and Mike Marshall combined to limit the Hank Aaron-less Braves to seven hits.

Rangers rout Ryan, Cal 10-2
ANAHUIM, Calif. (UPI) — Jeff Burroughs cracked a grand slam homer as the Texas Rangers routed Nolan Ryan and the California Angels, 10-2, Tuesday night en route to a 10-2 victory over the California Angels.

Rudi Kc A's past KC 6-4
KANSAS CITY (UPI) — Joe Rupp rapped a two-run double with the bases loaded to break a 4-4 tie, and the Oakland Athletics beat the Kansas City Royals, 6-4, Tuesday night.

Yankees drop Sox outlast Minnesota 3-1
BLOOMINGTON (UPI) — Night handed reliever Bill Campbell out down a bases jammed Chicago rally in the eighth inning Tuesday to save a 3-1 home opening victory for Bert Blyleven and the Minnesota Twins over the White Sox.

Hill agrees to jump to WFL Hawaii team

HONOLULU (UPI) — Dallas Cowboy running back Calvin Hill jumped from the National Football League to the new Hawaii Football League Tuesday, signing a three-year contract with the Hawaiians beginning in 1975.

Contract terms were not disclosed, but a spokesman for the WFL team said the money was "substantial."

Hill, a five-year veteran of the NFL and the Cowboys, said he would do "everything in his power to help Dallas win the Super Bowl this year," after he signed the contract to play for the Hawaiians.

Hill told a news conference here that he felt the fact that he was playing out his option and planned to play in the WFL in 1975 would not hamper his play for the Cowboys in the upcoming season.

Celts top Buffalo for playoff edge

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics led by John Havlicek's 25 points and a superb defense that held NBA scoring leader Bob McAdoo to only 16 points, defeated the Buffalo Braves, 100-97, to take a 3-2 lead in their Eastern Conference playoff Tuesday night.

The teams return to Buffalo Friday night for the sixth game of the series. A Boston win would end the series.

Hailey adopts 4 ordinances

By TERRY CAMPBELL,
Times-News writer

HAILEY—The Hailey City Council quickly adopted four ordinances Monday night.

After no protests were recorded during a public hearing, the council approved an ordinance to annex property located between the Friedman Memorial Airport and the McCulloch Property, Inc. Woodside Development. The annexation includes US Highway 92 and the Pacific property south to the south end of the airport property.

The newly annexed property, which will be zoned B (business), previously formed a narrow corridor between property in the Hailey City limits.

Mayor Lawrence Heagle said the annexation had been proposed basically to generate additional taxes and to tie in with the airport and McCulloch property lines.

A second adopted ordinance sets additional minimum lot sizes in the (B) general residential zone. These minimums include 5,500 square feet for a single-family residence, 7,000 square feet for a two-family residence, 9,000 square feet for a three-family residence, and a minimum of 2,000 square feet for each additional unit.

A zoning change from MH (mobile home) to LR (limited residential) was also approved by ordinance for blocks 100, 106, 111 and 114.

The annexation, minimum lot sizes and zoning changes had been recommended by the planning and zoning commission.

The fourth adopted ordinance authorizes the mayor and city clerk to execute a warranty deed to the Blaine County School District for property located near Wertheimer Park.

The city had previously received the former grade school site in the property exchange, but the deed had never been executed for the school property.

The new ordinance retains about 55 feet of First Avenue to be used as a fire access for the Blaine County Hospital.

Following adoption of the ordinance, Mayor Heagle and acting clerk Maxine Neal executed the deed.

Couple recites promise

BUHL — Deana Ambrose and Dennis Reinwald were married at 2 p.m. March 23 at the Buhl Methodist Church.

Rev. Glen Waltman performed the double ring ceremony before a background of gold candleabra holding pink candles and two gold vases filled with flowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion J. Ambrose, Buhl, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Reinwald, Salem, Ore.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pearl de sole. The bodice and sleeves were of organza trimmed with seed pearls. Her elbow length veil was held by a small lace cap.

She carried a nosegay bouquet of pink carnations, pink rosebuds, daisies and pink and burgundy ribbon streamers. She wore pearls borrowed from her sister, Mrs. Jim Fitzsimmons.

Cindy Mack, Tualatin, Ore., was maid of honor.

Kevin Ambrose, Vancouver, Wash., and Tony Ambrose, Spokane, Wash., nephews of the bride, were taper lighters. Dale Johnson, Eugene, was best man. Ushers were Curtis Ambrose, Vancouver, and Jeff Ambrose, and Alan Fitzsimmons.

Janice Jensen provided wedding music. Bill Buckendorf, Caldwell, was soloist.

The couple was honored at a reception following the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

11 CSI students selected for list

TWIN FALLS — Dr. Adele Thompson, dean of women at the College of Southern Idaho, announced today that 11 CSI students have been honored nationally.

The 11 students have been selected for inclusion in Who's Who Among Junior College Students in American Colleges this year.

Selected were: Kimberly Argyle, Mrs. Carol Cheney, Patricia Elledge, Blenda

Galay, Joyce Lewis, Mit. Mar Rene Melody, Rena Perfect, Mrs. Virginia Steelsmith, Victoria Sattliff, Ronald Wright and Pierce Roan.

Dr. Thompson said the students were selected for sophomore standing, superb character, moral qualities, active in CSI and community activities and high academic achievement. She said the nominations were made by students and the faculty.

GF miss, Roper say vows

GLENN'S FERRY — Connie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Brown, Glenn's Ferry, became the bride of David Roper, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Roper, Burley, at a ceremony March 23.

The single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. David Buzza in an evening rite at the United Presbyterian Church in Burley.

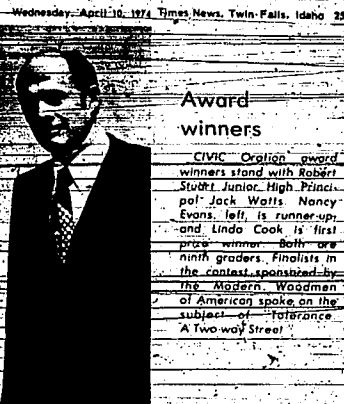

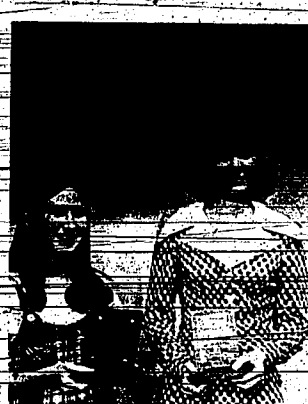

Sharon Brown, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Jeffrey Roper, Cleveland, Ohio, brother of the groom was the best man.

The bride's carriage was of yellow and white daisies. White candles and baskets of yellow and white daisies flanked the altar.

The wedding reception was held at the Sweetheart Manor in Burley. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth over green. The table was decorated with yellow and white flowers and greenery and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Howard Powell of Wendell, and Mrs. William Varrin of Gooding, sons of the bride. Mrs. Harold Brown, Twin Falls, was seated at the coffee service and Mrs. Keith Brown, Kimberly, served the punch. Both are aunts of the bride. Champagne was served by Tress Filer of San Francisco, Calif., sorority sister of the bride, and Richard Brown, brother of the bride.

Guests were registered by Jan. Charters, Emmett, sorority sister of the bride. The new Mrs. Roper is a 1968 graduate of Boise State High School and attended the University of Idaho, as did the groom. They honeymooned at Sun Valley.

Book Review

By JULIE SHEELE
Twin Falls Public Library

Almost all our major problems involve human behavior and they cannot be solved by physical and biological technology alone. What is needed is a technology of behavior.

Such are a few of the conclusions upon which B.F. Skinner bases his book "Beyond Freedom and Dignity."

Skinner, a recognized psychologist, presents a 30 page argument around the main theme that man's behavior can be scientifically controlled as easily as a physics problem.

Skinner's generalizations, backed up with many examples, supposedly prove that Skinner's logic concerning human behavior is simply and obviously true.

Skinner is to be applauded in his attempt to take the mystery out of human behavior, but one should closely examine his frightening supposition that one's course of behavior can be and will ultimately be designed by a controller.

This book is not to be compared with "A Clockwork Orange" or "1984." It is a plausible scientific study. What is more, Skinner's behavioralistic teaching methods are widely accepted in our school systems.

A person who considers important reform must read this book. At the most "Beyond Freedom and Dignity" points the direction for cultural advancement and survival, at the least, the book is thought-provoking.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: As my husband and I were preparing to make a trip to Europe by air, one of my so-called dearest friends came to me and asked me if I would also get a $60,000 airplane insurance policy naming her as the beneficiary. She said she would gladly pay for the insurance. I was shocked to say the least.

What do you think of such a suggestion from a supposed-by-loving-friend? I'd really like your opinion. DEAR ABBY:

DEAR PEACHES: Let me put it this way: If this "loving friend" invited me to her home for dinner, I'd wonder who she was loving, and I'd also take a food-taster along.

Better take second look

DEAR ABBY: It's a cliché you've never been to Alaska, otherwise you never would have told that 49-year-old woman who was husband hunting to go there. There are no extra-marriageable men there, plus jobs are scarce and prices are double. You should have told her not to go to Alaska unless she had a round-trip ticket and plenty of money. She's too old to be a go-go dancer.

ERMA IN ANCHORAGE

DEAR ABBY: A few months ago I was hospitalized for a heart condition, and upon release, my doctor told me I had to take it easy.

My son, his wife and their three very active young children are neighbors to us, and the children are here more than they are at home. They want me out, but I can't bring myself to send them away.

My husband hired a housekeeper to help me the last few weeks, but my daughter-in-law has begun to "borrow" her, so once again I am alone with those undisciplined children. My daughter-in-law is a good girl, and I'm sure she doesn't realize the toll the children take on me. She's very sensitive. My son tried talking to her about letting the children spend so much time at her house, but she refused, but she ended up in tears, all upset, and the next day they were back.

How can I handle this without hurting anyone? I love them all very much. NAMELESS, OF COURSE

DEAR NAMELESS: First, tell your housekeeper that she is not to be "borrowed" by your daughter-in-law. Then tell your daughter-in-law to please quit commanding your help—that you love her and the kids, but you aren't up to having them over unless she is there to discipline them. Don't worry about her ending up in tears. Better that than you ending up in a box—before your time.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WORRIED AND WAITING IN N.J.: The answer is yes. See a physician at once. After you can get an adequate blood count, you can contact your public health department and tell them what you have told me. And do not wait another day!

Problems! You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 6700, L.A., Calif. 90029. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

MR. AND MRS. EDWIN HOWLAND

Miss Clubb, Howland exchange promises

JEROME—Betty Sue Clubb and Edwin D. Howland were married in a double ring ceremony March 22 in the United Methodist Church, Jerome. Rev. John N. Garabrant performed—the evening candlelight ceremony in the church sanctuary decorated with white mums, lilies and flowers in arrangements and on the candelabra. Lavender and pink bows enhanced the pews and, matching candles encircled with white flowers decorated the windows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clubb, Jerome.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a gown styled in an empire line with an attached chapel train.

The gown featured full bishop sleeves and cotton velvet lace rose motifs trimmed the bodice, skirt and bands on the sleeves. Her three-tiered veil of bridal illusion was caught to a small cap and made by the bride's mother.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white spider mums, pink roses and baby's breath.

Traditional wedding marches and soloist accompaniment were played by Tom Holter. Mrs. Alan Klynson, sorority sister of the bride, sang.

Bridesmaids were Vicki Lawrence, Boise; Jani Kitchardson, Blackfoot; and Aina Derig, Welter, sorority sisters of the bride.

Greg Howland, nephew of the bride, was a ring bearer. Vern Howland, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Darrel Rundel, Boise; Gary Paul and Roger Clubb, brother of the bride.

Gifts were under the direction of Linda Clubb, Missoula, and Denise Goodrich, Idaho Falls; both cousins of the bride.

The couple was honored at a reception in the church fellowship room immediately after the ceremony.

The bride's table was covered with white linen. Silver candelabra with pink tapers flanked the three-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with white lace, scrolls and hearts.

The bell-shaped layers were, separated by lacy conchades with angels and swans. A miniature bride and groom were in an apple blossom bower topped the cake which was made by Mrs. Vern Cox, Hagerman, sister of the groom.

Serving the cake were Mrs. Ellis Sturdy and Mrs. Lloyd Goodrich, Idaho Falls, aunts of the bride.

Pouring were Mrs. Robert Clubb, Missoula, and Mrs. Jack Clubb, Portland, aunts of the bride.

Out-of-town guests attended from Portland, Meridian, Boise, Missoula, Oxnard, Calif.; Salt Lake City; Baker, Ore.; Idaho Falls; Blackfoot; Welter; Twin Falls; Burley; Hagerman, Wendell and Castleford.

The bride was honored at two bridal showers given to her by Mrs. Jack Thomson, assisted by Dorothy Bird, Mrs. Monford Adams and Mrs. Robert Huston, Twin Falls, and a shower by Mrs. Russell Howell Jr., Mrs. Harold Seltz, Mrs. Don Snow and Mrs. Verle Sullivan.

After a honeymoon trip to Boise the couple lives in Boise where the bridegroom is a self-employed plumber. The bride will be graduated from University of Idaho with a degree in elementary education.

Benefit dinner-dance set by auxiliary

TWIN FALLS—The Magic Valley Memorial Hospital Auxiliary is trying to raise $10,200 toward the purchase of a heart monitoring treadmill.

If the Pink Ladies succeed, Magic Valley residents soon may be able to find out their chances of having a heart attack within the next few years.

Funds for the treadmill will be raised by a benefit dinner-dance set for May 3 at the Rodeway Inn. Tickets are $10 a plate for the dinner, dance and should be purchased in advance. Door prizes will be awarded, including a $100 grand prize.

The treadmill test, a simple procedure requiring only a few minutes, has proven to be four times more reliable than a cholesterol test.

A California doctor who has performed more than 2,700 tests in the past eight years, rated the treadmill tests as equally reliable to an X-ray study of the heart which costs $1,000 and requires two days of hospitalization.

Subjects are tested by having them walk at increasing speeds on the treadmill while their heart activity is monitored by a direct recording graph triggered by electrodes worn by the subject.

Having the heart monitored by the EKG machine while the patient is exercising is significantly more reliable as a testing device than monitoring the heart of a resting subject, because the physical activity exposes abnormalities which otherwise might not appear.

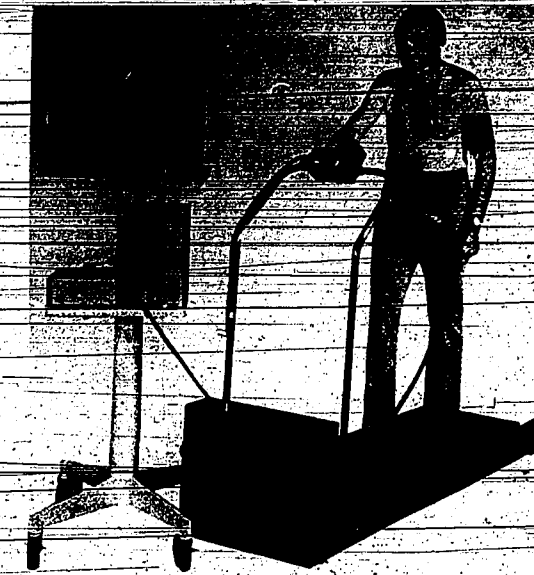

If heart disease is diagnosed from the treadmill test, the subject's physician decides what treatment is necessary.

Donations of the treadmill to Magic Valley Memorial is the largest project undertaken by the auxiliary and for this reason the Pink Ladies are asking for help from the community and businesses.

Persons wanting tickets for the May 3 dinner-dance should call auxiliary president Vivien Hicks, 543-5786, or a member of the finance committee, which includes Shirley Gould, chairman, 543-5731; Margaret King, 733-9456; Creath Wilkison, 733-8901; Billye Denison, 733-9577; Mela Brumback, 733-7303; Polly Woodson, 733-3868; and Pat Heinemann, 733-1883.

Y Easter Fun Club sets event

TWIN FALLS—The Magic Valley YMCA's third annual Easter Fun Club for boys and girls in the first through fourth grades will be held on Friday, Saturday, and Monday. The all day program will begin at 9:30 a.m. and end at 3 p.m.

The regular daily program will include games, songs, crafts, archery, and movies. While there will be a special event each day such as a Jr. Olympics, Easter Egg Hunt and relay festival.

For only 41 cents an hour a youngster can enjoy all of the activities and programs. For further information or to sign up please call the YMCA at 733-4384.

Scout-O-Rama set in Jerome

JEROME—The North Side annual Scout-O-Rama will be held April 27.

The event will be at the National Guard Armory in Jerome from 3 to 5 p.m.

The date of the Scout-O-Rama was changed from April 20 to the 27th because of a previous commitment of the National Guard Armory facilities.

"This year's theme is 'Get Involved for Them' according to Kenneth Waybright, district scout executive."

Waybright said that the scouts will be competing for more valuable prizes than given in previous years.

Scouts are now calling on area residents selling tickets to the event," he said.

Richfield club makes donations

RICHFIELD — The Richfield Women's Club has donated $25 to the Senior Citizens organization and $10 to the Community Church Bible school.

Rev. Nathan Ware, who is working with the Senior Citizens group for the county, reported to the club on progress toward a center.

He said by Nov. 1, 1975, they hope to be in a Senior Citizens Center and have all the activities the members want to full swing. They also hope to have a full scale transportation service throughout the county by Jan. 1, 1975.

By Feb. 1, 1975, they hope to have five-day-a-week "Meals on Wheels" program for the county shut-ins from a central preparation facility.

The group will meet on April 17 at the home of Mrs. Jim Exon where an Italian luncheon will be prepared by Mrs. David Whitesell.

New officers will be elected at that time.

Opening lead: ♠ Q

By Oswald & James Jacoby

A little knowledge is likely to be a dangerous thing to possess.

The ordinary bridge player would count to trick in the cards and see that the club suit would give him his slam as long as it broke 3-2. He knows that suits are supposed to break 3-2 and after winning the spade lead our ordinary player would hang down dummy's ace and king of clubs and take the slam to the bank.

But with a little knowledge would know that suits break 3-2 68 per cent of the time. He would also note that the East should hold either the king or queen of hearts or both of those cards that two heart finesses would lead to 12 tricks without having to try the clubs and that the chance of that play succeeding would be 76 per cent.

76 per cent chance is better than a 58 per cent chance and try two heart finesses. This time he would lose both finesses and his slam.

An expert would use the same line of play as the ordinary player. He would cash one club and when both opponents followed he would know that the chance of a 3-2 break had risen to 71 per cent. Then he would cash the second high club.

The reason is that if clubs failed to break 3-2, East would be lost. He could still try the hearts. If East held the four clubs he would still make if the heart honors were divided. If West held the four clubs the slam would make if East held both heart honors. All in all the chance for success on the combination play would be 82 per cent.

as a gift from the group, officials announced Tuesday. The gift was donated by the Ben Marche.

Mr. and Mrs. Spofford have cared for children of all ages for various periods of time during the 33 years as foster parents. Among their family members were a brother and sister who came to them at ages 6 and 5 years and remained until adults.

Caseworkers of the Department of Environmental and Community Services paid special tribute to the couple as having done an outstanding job in child care.

The banquet was held Saturday night in the Holiday Inn. Gale Keen, Burley, was toastmaster, and LaMar Orton, Buhl, gave the dedication. Several musical selections were presented.

Kent Henderson, children's service

consultant at DECS, banquet speaker, discussed foster care and the changing programs for existing foster children. Cliff Morgan, The Other Side of Time, Bellevue, also spoke, outlining the programs of his foster home.

Richard Jordan, president of the Twin Falls

Progressive Club, presented a certificate of appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Samson, past presidents of the Twin Falls Foster Parent

Association. He also presented a certificate to Erma Shropshire, foster care liaison officer,

DECS.

Mrs. Ivan Myers, vice president of the Idaho

Foster Parents Association, presented certificates to two other liaison officers, Dolly

McCurry, Burley-Rupert area, and Roseann

Hardin, Jerome-Gooding area.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. David

Humphrey, Twin Falls. Humphrey is assistant administrative director of Region five, DECS.

Mrs. Gordon Hart, Kimberly; Mrs. Ronald

JANE ARMSTRONG, Consulting Home Economist
for Buttreys Food Stores

Bone-in, semi-boneless, or boneless. Fully-cooked, cook-before-eating, whole, butt or shank or portion, canned—whew! I'll bet you didn't know you had such a choice when selecting an Easter ham! Hopefully, the following bits of information will help you in deciding which to buy.

Hams are either "fully cooked" or "cook-before-eating."
Fully-cooked hams don't HAVE to be cooked. But the flavor really does improve if the ham is heated in a 325° oven for 10 to 15 minutes per pound.

A butt half or shank half is half of a whole ham. When the center slices are removed, the remainder is called a butt portion or shank portion. The ham butt has more lean meat in proportion to bone, fat and skin than the shank—that's why it costs more per pound.

You can find fully cooked, skinless and boneless canned hams in many brands and sizes. Some require refrigeration before opening—some don't. Your best bet is to read all instructions and information on the can. Then you'll know exactly what kind of ham you're taking home as well as the best way to prepare it.

Happy ham shopping! And best wishes for a very nice Easter for you and your family!

So that our employees may have the opportunity to observe Easter with their families, your Safeway store will not be open for business next Sunday. Your cooperation in planning to complete your food shopping ahead-of-Easter will be most appreciated. We hope that your family, too, enjoys a happy holiday.
